

Steve Caya Named 2027 Best Lawyers® 'Lawyer of the Year' for Personal Injury Litigation – Plaintiffs in Madison

Nowlan Injury Law Partner earns peer-reviewed recognition for his work representing injured people throughout Wisconsin

MADISON, WI, UNITED STATES, August 21, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Nowlan Injury Law is proud to announce that Partner Steve Caya has been named the 2027 Best Lawyers® "Lawyer of the Year" for Personal Injury Litigation – Plaintiffs in Madison, Wisconsin.

The "Lawyer of the Year" distinction is awarded to one lawyer in a specific practice area and metropolitan region in each edition. The recognition is based on Best Lawyers' peer-review process and is given to the attorney who receives the highest overall peer feedback within that practice area and geographic region.

I'm deeply honored to receive this recognition, particularly because it comes from fellow attorneys who understand the work that goes into representing people after a serious injury.”

Attorney Steve Caya

For Caya, the recognition reflects a career devoted to representing people and families whose lives have been changed by serious injuries.

“I'm deeply honored to receive this recognition, particularly because it comes from fellow attorneys who understand the work that goes into representing people after a serious injury,” said Caya. “Our clients often come to us during some of the most difficult periods of their lives. I've always believed our job is not only to fight for the best possible result, but to make sure our clients know they have someone in their corner throughout the process.”

Caya brings a distinctive perspective to his personal injury practice. Early in his legal career, he worked for a large law firm representing insurance companies and defending personal injury claims. He later brought that experience to the other side of the courtroom, using his knowledge of insurance company strategies to advocate for injured individuals and their families.

Over the course of his career, Caya has handled personal injury claims in state and federal courts involving car and truck crashes, motorcycle and ATV accidents, premises liability, construction-related matters and other serious injury cases. The Nowlan Injury Law team has represented thousands of clients and obtained multiple seven-figure jury verdicts and settlements, as well as significant six-figure recoveries.

“Steve is an exceptional trial lawyer and an even better advocate for his clients,” said Evan Tenebruso, a partner at Nowlan Injury Law. “He understands how insurance companies evaluate and defend claims, and he uses that experience every day to level the playing field for injured people. Steve is meticulous in his preparation, fearless when a case needs to be tried, and genuinely cares about the people he represents. This recognition from his peers is incredibly well deserved.”

Like Caya, Tenebruso brings experience from both sides of personal injury litigation. Before dedicating his practice to representing injured people, Tenebruso spent more than a decade representing insurance companies. He is an experienced trial and appellate lawyer whose work has included personal injury, wrongful death, insurance coverage and insurance bad faith matters.

Caya has earned recognition from numerous legal organizations throughout his career. He has been selected as a Wisconsin Super Lawyer every year since 2009 and has previously been recognized in The Best Lawyers in America® for Personal Injury Litigation – Plaintiffs. He is also a member of the Wisconsin Chapter of the American Board of Trial Advocates (ABOTA), an invitation-only organization of experienced trial lawyers.

A Janesville native and the son of a General Motors factory worker, Caya has maintained strong ties to the communities he serves. In addition to his legal practice, he has served as President of the Board of Directors for Friends of Noah Animal Rescue and as a member of the Board of Directors for GIFTS Men's Shelter.

The 2027 "Lawyer of the Year" recognition highlights Caya's longstanding commitment to representing plaintiffs in personal injury matters and Nowlan Injury Law's continued work on behalf of injured people throughout Wisconsin.
