

PropMix Launches Profet Nexus, a Comprehensive Appraisal Order Management Platform with AI and RPA powered automation

New platform streamlines the entire appraisal lifecycle - connecting Appraisers, Real Estate Agents, Lenders, and AMCs - in a single connected ecosystem

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, August 18, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- New York - August 18, 2026 - PropMix.io, a leading solution and AI technology provider for the real estate and mortgage industry, today announced the launch of Profet Nexus, a comprehensive appraisal order management platform designed to connect Appraisers, Real Estate Agents, Lenders, and Appraisal Management Companies (AMCs) within a single, integrated workflow with underlying automation for accounting and analytics.

Profet Nexus was built to solve a real problem in the appraisal industry - too many disconnected tools and too much manual work driving up per order costs”

Dr Umesh Harigopal

Profet Nexus gives Appraisers a centralized hub to manage orders, complete appraisals, deliver finished reports, and handle client-specific accounting - eliminating the need to juggle multiple disconnected systems throughout the appraisal process.

Integrated Valuation and Quality Review

Profet Nexus is fully integrated with Profet Valuation, enabling Appraisers to generate valuations directly within the platform. This includes support for traditional appraisal forms such as the 1004 and 1073, as well as alternate valuation products including Desktop Appraisals, Broker Price Opinions (BPOs), and Evaluations.

The platform is also integrated with Profet Review, allowing Appraisers to check appraisal quality and make revisions before completing or delivering an order to a client. Users can choose the depth of review features they want to leverage, including:

- Comparable scoring
- Photo analysis
- Language analysis
- Geospatial analysis

Together, these integrations allow Appraisers to move from order intake to a fully reviewed, delivery-ready appraisal without leaving the Nexus platform.

Purpose-Built Tools for Lenders and AMCs

For Lenders and AMCs, Profet Nexus provides the tools needed to build and manage strong panels of Appraisers and Agents. Key capabilities include:

- Panel management for Appraisers and Agents
- Fee management
- Auto-assignment rules designed to optimize outcomes such as fast turnaround times and low revision rates
- Comprehensive accounting and payment processing, including automated payments to Appraisers and Agents

By combining panel management, intelligent assignment, and automated payments, Profet Nexus helps Lenders and AMCs reduce administrative overhead while improving turnaround and quality across their appraisal operations.

An Open Platform Built for Integration

Profet Nexus is designed as an open platform, giving Lenders, AMCs, and other partners the flexibility to integrate on their own terms. Profet's Robotic Process Automation (RPA) and AI capabilities enable seamless integration into internal or third-party systems with minimal effort, while Profet's open APIs support best-of-breed integration for customers who want to connect Nexus with their existing technology stack. This flexibility allows organizations of any size or technical maturity to adopt Profet Nexus without disrupting their current workflows.

"Profet Nexus was built to solve a real problem in the appraisal industry - too many disconnected tools and too much manual work driving up per order costs," said Umesh Harigopal, CEO of PropMix. "By bringing order management, valuation, quality review, and payments together in one platform, we're giving Appraisers, Agents, Lenders, and AMCs a faster, more transparent way to work together. This launch reflects our continued commitment to building technology that makes the entire appraisal ecosystem more efficient."

Profet Nexus is available now to Appraisers, Real Estate Agents, Lenders, and AMCs. For more information or to request a demo, visit www.profet.ai.
