

Dr. Alachnowicz Supports Cancer Research and Patient Resources Through the American Cancer Society

Northern Virginia dentist contributes to the organization's efforts to advance cancer research, patient support, and access to care.

DUMFRIES, VA, UNITED STATES, August 19, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dr. Alachnowicz, a longtime Northern Virginia dentist who has spent nearly three decades serving families in the community where he was raised, has made a charitable donation to the American Cancer Society in support of its work addressing the impact of cancer on individuals and families.

The contribution reflects Dr. Alachnowicz's broader commitment to helping others and supporting causes that strengthen the well-being of families and communities. Throughout his 27-year career in general and family dentistry, he has emphasized a patient-first approach centered on education, trust, and compassionate care.

"Most of us know someone who has been affected by cancer, whether it's a family member, a friend, or someone in our community," said Dr. Alachnowicz. "Cancer has an impact that extends far beyond the individual patient. Supporting research, resources, and care for those navigating that experience is something I believe is deeply worthwhile."

The American Cancer Society works to improve the lives of people with cancer and their families through advocacy, research, and patient support. Its efforts include funding cancer research, providing information and resources to patients and caregivers, and working to improve access to cancer prevention, detection, and treatment.

For Dr. Alachnowicz, giving back has long been connected to his approach to both dentistry and community life. During his career, he has provided charitable dental care to individuals facing financial hardship, guided by the belief that necessary treatment should not be determined solely by a patient's ability to pay.

Through his donation to the American Cancer Society, Dr. Alachnowicz continues a personal tradition of supporting the health and well-being of individuals and families beyond the dental office.

Dr. Alachnowicz is a general dentist with 27 years of experience serving patients in Northern Virginia. A graduate of James Madison University and the Virginia Commonwealth University School of Dentistry, his approach to dentistry emphasizes patient education, long-term relationships, and compassionate care.
