North Augusta native & USC-Aiken graduate joins intelliSystems to help businesses in Georgia & South Carolina make technology part of their growth strategy

AUGUSTA, GA, UNITED STATES, August 25, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- intelliSystems, a leading provider of managed IT, cybersecurity and business technology services throughout Georgia and South Carolina, is pleased to announce that Ryan Henry has joined the company as a Technology Consultant.

Henry will work with businesses throughout intelliSystems' markets, including Augusta, Greenville, Columbia, Macon, and Savannah, helping organizations evaluate their technology, security, and compliance needs and identify solutions that support productivity, security and long-term growth.

A North Augusta native and graduate of the University of South Carolina Aiken, Henry brings previous experience in the technology services industry, where his work focused on client satisfaction, service alignment and building strong customer relationships.

"I was ready for the next step in my career, and I'm looking forward to building great relationships with people and businesses across the Southeast," Henry said.

In his new role, Henry will focus on developing relationships with organizations that are evaluating their technology strategy, experiencing challenges with their current IT environment or looking for a technology partner that can better support where their business is headed.

intelliSystems works with small and midsize businesses across a variety of industries to provide managed IT services, cybersecurity, compliance support, business continuity and backup solutions, cloud services, VoIP, penetration testing, structured cabling, co-managed IT and strategic technology consulting.

The company's approach focuses on making technology work in the background of the business rather than becoming another problem leadership teams have to manage.

For growing organizations, technology can affect nearly every part of the business, from employee productivity and communication to cybersecurity, compliance and customer service. intelliSystems works with clients to create technology environments that are reliable, secure and aligned with their business goals so owners and leadership teams can spend less time dealing with IT problems and more time running and
