

Magnetic Money Secrets Announces the Launch of a 14-Day Audio Experience Designed to Reshape Financial Mindsets

ROCHESTER, NY, UNITED STATES, August 20, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Magnetic Money Secrets has officially launched a 14-day guided audio and meditation program aimed at helping individuals move past scarcity-based thinking and build a healthier, more receptive relationship with money. Created for those seeking a grounded, inner-work-based approach to personal wealth, the daily series combines brief lessons, guided meditations, and frequency-based audio to address the emotional blocks surrounding success and financial stability.

Unlike surface-level manifestation techniques or quick financial fixes, Magnetic Money Secrets focuses on the internal patterns that dictate a person's financial reality. The curriculum operates on a central premise: "You don't just attract abundance. You uncover it." By dedicating approximately 10 minutes a day, participants are guided through feelings of fear, time pressure, and self-worth issues that often complicate their relationship with receiving money and opportunities.

"Most people think abundance is something they have to chase, but I believe abundance is something we uncover," said Eric Davenport, Founder of Magnetic Money Secrets. "Magnetic Money Secrets was created to help people release the fear, scarcity, and old patterns that keep them from receiving more money, freedom, and opportunity in their lives."

The audio journey is divided into three distinct phases to facilitate gradual internal change:

Phase 1:

Release the Illusion: Listeners confront and release limiting thoughts, emotional reactivity, time pressure, and the need for excessive control.

Phase 2:

Return to Wholeness: The focus shifts to reconnecting with contentment, self-worth, compassion, and the power of focused attention.

Phase 3:

Activate Abundance: The final days guide users to expand their capacity to hold wealth, practice generosity, and step into their identity as the creator of their reality.

Throughout the two weeks, the program integrates frequency-based audio designed to support grounding, emotional healing, and a state of receiving. The tone of the program is deliberate, accessible, and rooted in the everyday experiences of managing stress, ambition, and financial pressure, avoiding abstract or overly complicated spiritual concepts.

"This program is not about pretending money doesn't matter or making unrealistic promises," Davenport added. "Money creates freedom, choices, and the ability to care for the people we love. Magnetic Money Secrets helps people shift their relationship with wealth from fear and pressure into openness, receiving, and grounded confidence."

Davenport, a business owner who has maintained a daily meditation practice since 2010, developed the program after observing the deep connection between emotional patterns and financial ceilings. By bringing practical and emotional tools together, the program targets the deeper resistance that often sits beneath money-related stress and self-doubt.

Looking ahead, Magnetic Money Secrets plans to expand its brand offerings to include supplementary worksheets, companion resources, community support platforms, and more comprehensive training experiences focused on wealth and emotional resilience.
