

Record Demand For Event Rentals in Charleston Fuels a Big Month for High Cotton Comfort Co.

Luxury restroom trailer rentals supported back-to-back private events in McClellanville and Kiawah Island, marking a new milestone for the company.

CHARLESTON, SC, UNITED STATES, August 20, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- High Cotton Comfort Co., a provider of luxury restroom trailer rentals serving the Greater Charleston area, completed its busiest consecutive event weekends to date at the end of July 2026. The company delivered restroom trailers for two private outdoor events in the South Carolina Lowcountry: an outdoor rehearsal dinner in McClellanville and a large anniversary party on Kiawah Island.

One event gave us time to plan well in advance, while the other showed why we also need to be prepared when someone contacts us only a few days before a gathering”

Bear Huggins, Owner of High Cotton Comfort Co.

The two bookings, held on back-to-back weekends, reflected two scheduling patterns familiar to event planners and hosts across the region. The McClellanville rental was reserved well in advance, giving the High Cotton team time to plan delivery and setup. The Kiawah Island request arrived only a matter of days before the event, requiring the company to prepare and deliver a trailer on a compressed timeline.

"One event gave us time to plan well in advance, while the other showed why we also need to be prepared when someone contacts us only a few days before a gathering," said Bear Huggins, Owner of High Cotton Comfort Co. "Serving both in the same stretch was an important step for the company, and we're focused on staying ready as the season continues."

The McClellanville event was an outdoor rehearsal dinner at a private residence, where hosts planned to keep guests outside for most of the evening. High Cotton positioned a restroom trailer near the event area to support the outdoor setting without the trailer sticking out of being in the way of the event.

The following weekend, High Cotton supplied a restroom trailer for a large outdoor anniversary party at a private residence on Kiawah Island. Despite the short notice, the company coordinated preparation and delivery in time for the event, supporting a similar outdoor arrangement for guests.

For both rentals, High Cotton delivered the trailer to the event location at the time arranged with the client. Their team typically needs about 30 minutes on site to position the restroom trailer, complete preparations and make it fully operational as a self-contained restroom facility for the duration of the event.

High Cotton Comfort Co. and Rooter Man Plumbing share access to a pump and service truck used in trailer preparation, servicing and plumbing-related work. For High Cotton, the shared equipment supports faster turnarounds between rentals and a quicker response when a request arrives on short notice. That shared resource played a role in the company's ability to accommodate the Kiawah Island request within days of the event.

The consecutive bookings followed a slower start to the year for the company. Inquiries and booking activity began building as the summer event season progressed, culminating in the late-July period. Early booking activity for August has been encouraging, though the company is treating that activity as an outlook rather than a completed result. High Cotton will continue monitoring inquiries and event schedules as the 2026 summer and fall seasons progress across Greater Charleston and the South Carolina Lowcountry.

For Charleston-area event planners, wedding coordinators and hosts, the two July rentals illustrate the range of scheduling needs High Cotton Comfort Co. aims to support, from advance-planned private events to short-notice requests, as it continues serving outdoor events, private gatherings and Lowcountry weddings across the region.
