The partnership combines CMBYND’s practitioner-led advisory and operating model expertise in the financial services industry with Orion Governance’s advanced Enterprise AI Data Fabric platform to help accelerate customer adoption of AI and support regulatory obligations.

“Organizations are adopting AI at an unprecedented pace, but many still lack the trusted data, transparency and governance needed to scale it responsibly,” said Chris Crowe, Chief Executive Officer at CMBYND. “Governance cannot be an afterthought. By combining our strategic advisory and operational design expertise with Orion Governance’s powerful data intelligence technology, we can help enterprises strengthen trust in their data, understand critical data dependencies, manage change more effectively and accelerate AI adoption with greater confidence and control.”

“The combination of Orion’s technology with CMBYND’s deep business expertise in the financial services industry is a great win for all our financial services customers in the UK and Canada” said Ramesh Shurma, CEO at Orion Governance. “Working together, we can enable enterprises to gain end-to-end vertical and horizontal lineage, reduce operational risk, accelerate compliance efforts, and establish accountability and model explainability.”
