

Jonathan Pokluda and Becoming Something Podcast Announce BeSo Live Tour

Jonathan Pokluda, Nate Hilgenkamp, & Kathy Davidson Team Up for Four-City Live Podcast Tour This November

NASHVILLE, TN, UNITED STATES, August 21, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Jonathan "JP" Pokluda and the Becoming Something podcast are taking the conversation on the road this fall with the BeSo Live Tour, a four-city live podcast experience designed to help young adults navigate relationships, purpose, faith, and the seasons that shape their lives.

Featuring Pokluda alongside Becoming Something co-hosts Nate Hilgenkamp and Kathy Davidson, the BeSo Live Tour will bring honest conversations and practical biblical insight to audiences in Ohio, Tennessee, and Texas this November.

"Who are you becoming?" is the question at the heart of the tour. Through candid conversations, the team will tackle the questions young adults are actually asking, from navigating dating and building meaningful careers to discovering God's purpose and understanding what faithful living looks like in everyday moments.

The tour is designed for young adults in every season of life—whether single, dating, engaged, married, or still figuring out what comes next. Attendees can come with friends, a small group, a spouse, or on their own. The evening will welcome both longtime listeners of the podcast and those discovering Becoming Something for the first time.

With biblical truth, practical insight, and the authenticity that has made Becoming Something a trusted voice for young adults, the BeSo Live Tour will create space for attendees to consider how their decisions, relationships, and seasons are shaping who they are becoming.

"Every decision, every relationship, and every season is shaping you," is the message behind the tour and the invitation is simple: come gather with others, ask honest questions, and take the next faithful step. The BeSo Live Tour builds on the mission of Becoming Something, a podcast focused on helping young adults pursue a life of purpose and faithful discipleship. Through conversations about relationships, work, faith, identity, and everyday decisions, the podcast encourages listeners to consider not simply what they are doing, but who they are becoming. An exclusive pre-sale begins Tuesday, August 25th with code BESOLIVE, with tickets available to the public starting Wednesday, August 26th at 10am local time. For tickets and more information, visit tprlive.co.

About Jonathan “JP” Pokluda:

Jonathan “JP” Pokluda is the Lead Pastor of Harris Creek Baptist Church in Waco, Texas, a 145-year-old congregation where he has served since 2019. Before moving to Waco, he led the largest weekly young adult gathering in the country. Although raised in church, JP didn’t come to understand the grace of the Gospel until his early twenties. That encounter with Christ ignited a passion to see the next generation radically follow Jesus and be unleashed to change the world. JP and his wife, Monica, his partner in ministry since 2004, have the joy of raising and discipling their three children: Presley, Finley, and Weston.

About Nate Hilgenkamp:

Nate Hilgenkamp is a Teaching Pastor at Harris Creek Baptist Church in Waco, Texas. Nate is married to his wife Adalee whom he met while they were at Baylor University. Together they have 3 daughters Jacie (5), Callie (2), and Annie (1). Nate received his B.A. in Religion and M. Div. from Baylor University.

About Kathy Davidson:

Kathy Davidson is the Director of Sisterhood, the women's ministry at Harris Creek Baptist Church in Waco, Texas. Originally from Fort Worth, Texas, she earned a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from Samford University in Birmingham, Alabama before moving to Waco to complete a Master of Arts in Christian Ministry at Truett Seminary. She and her husband, Matt, have been married for 14 years and have the incredible privilege of raising their four children: Judah (11), Joel (8), Jack (6), and Grace (3).
