

ARCO Lock & Security Marks Three Decades of Protecting Homes and Businesses Across Utah and Arizona

UT, UNITED STATES, August 27, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ARCO Lock & Security, a commercial locksmith and security company serving Utah and Arizona, recently celebrated over 30 years in business, having protected homes and businesses across both states since 1995 — long before smart locks, cloud-based access control, and keyless entry became industry standards.

Over three decades, ARCO has grown from a traditional locksmith operation into a full-service security provider, offering commercial locksmith services, access control systems (including cloud-based Nexkey and on-premise/hybrid Kantech platforms), alarm monitoring, and business security systems across its Utah and Arizona service areas.

"Thirty years ago, security meant a good lock and a locksmith who showed up when he said he would. That part hasn't changed — we still believe in doing the job right and treating every customer with respect. What has changed is everything around it: cloud-based access control, real-time alerts, systems people can manage from their phone. We've kept up with all of it without losing sight of the basics that got us here," said Adam Smith, Owner of ARCO Lock & Security.

The company attributes its longevity to a combination of hands-on service and steady technology adoption. ARCO is licensed and insured in every market it serves, and every customer — residential or commercial — has access to free phone tech support, a benefit the company has maintained as its systems have grown more advanced.

"We don't take on a new community lightly. Before we ever put our name on a truck in Avondale, Anthem, or Sun City, we made sure we had the technicians and response times to back it up. Our reviews matter to us — hundreds of five-star ratings didn't happen by accident, and we intend to earn that same trust with every new neighborhood we serve," added Adam Smith, Owner of ARCO Lock & Security.

As it enters its fourth decade, ARCO continues to expand its access control and business security offerings across both states, including recent additions such as flexible financing for commercial security upgrades and expanded smart lock installation services.
