

Camp Quality Brings No-Cost Fall Family Camps to Families Facing Childhood Cancer

Nine weekend camps across the country give kids with cancer and their families a chance to reconnect, at no cost.

KALAMAZOO, MI, UNITED STATES, August 25, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- This fall, Camp Quality USA is opening the doors of its Fall Family Camp program to families across the country, offering a no-cost weekend away for children with cancer and the people who love them most.

From September through November, Camp Quality will host nine Fall Family Camps in nine states, welcoming children with cancer ages 0 to 17, whether in treatment or in remission, along with their parents, guardians, brothers, and sisters. Each camp is a full weekend of meals, activities, and connection, and every one of them is completely free for the families who attend.

For families navigating a child's cancer diagnosis, ordinary time together can be hard to come by. Appointments, treatments, and the weight of it all leave little room for the simple stuff: a campfire, a canoe, a weekend where nobody has to be brave. Camp Quality's Family Camps are built to give that time back.

"Family Camp is where families get to exhale. For one weekend, cancer doesn't run the schedule, and families get to just be together. That is the whole point." Laura Vaughn, CEO, Camp Quality USA

Our camps are inclusive and built for all abilities, with activities that adapt to every energy level and physical need, so a child in the middle of treatment and a sibling who has spent months in waiting rooms both have a place. The 2026 Fall Family Camp program is sponsored by Sun Outdoors, a division of Sun Communities, Inc.

"It's an honor to partner with Camp Quality USA and support the meaningful mission of this truly impactful organization," stated Kate Wahl, Director, Social Responsibility for Sun Communities. "We share many similar values to Camp Quality in that we aspire to create places that are engaging, social and fun and allow for lifelong memories to be made. I applaud Laura and her team for their dedication in helping children with cancer have the opportunity to experience the many benefits afforded by nature and the great outdoors."

Families can apply now

Applications for the 2026 Fall Family Camps are open now. Families interested in attending can learn more and apply at campqualityusa.org/camp-locations/family-camp-26. Because space is limited, families who apply are placed on a waitlist and contacted directly if a spot becomes available. Not every family who applies will be able to attend, and every family will be notified either way.

How the community can help

Camp Quality USA is able to offer these weekends at no cost because of the generosity of donors and corporate sponsors. Community members, local businesses, and organizations who want to help more families experience camp can donate or explore sponsorship opportunities at campqualityusa.org.

About Camp Quality USA

Camp Quality USA gives kids with cancer the chance to just be kids. The organization serves families in 22 states with overnight summer camps, family camps, and year-round support programs. All camps and programs are provided at no cost. Every camper is paired with a trained adult companion responsible for their safety and their fun. Siblings are welcomed alongside them, because a cancer diagnosis reshapes an entire household and parents deserve real respite. All camps are medically supervised, and Camp Quality USA is a Gold Ribbon accredited member of the Children's Oncology Camping Association. Learn more at campqualityusa.org. Camp Quality USA is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. Contributions are tax deductible to the extent allowed by law.
