Mount Pleasant Businesses Have a
Local SEO Partner Focused on Results

Results Driven Marketing®
Your GOOGLE Girls & Guys

Businesses looking for SEO services in Mount Pleasant, South Carolina, can turn to Results Driven Marketing® for a strategy that goes beyond rankings and website traffic.

Based in Mount Pleasant, Results Driven Marketing helps local and national businesses improve search visibility while focusing on what matters most: more calls, qualified leads, inquiries, and new business opportunities.

Ranking higher is only valuable if it helps your business get chosen. We want to know if that visibility is producing calls, inquiries, appointments, and real opportunities.”

*Janeene Bannan, owner,
Results Driven Marketing®*

Founded in 2013, the agency brings more than a decade of digital marketing experience and is a certified Google Partner and BBB Accredited Business with an A+ rating. Results Driven Marketing has also received recognition from the Philadelphia Business Journal and has been featured by CIO Bulletin.

SEO Should Generate More Than Rankings

For Results Driven Marketing, getting a business to appear higher in Google is only one part of a successful SEO strategy.

The real goal is making sure the right customers find the business, trust what they see, and take action.

RDM's SEO strategies can include local SEO, keyword and competitor research, website optimization, content development, technical SEO, location targeting, conversion improvements, and ongoing performance tracking.

That broader approach allows the agency to look beyond keyword positions and focus on how SEO contributes to actual business growth.

Proven Results in Competitive Markets

Results Driven Marketing works with businesses across competitive industries including legal services, home care, healthcare, professional services, franchises, and other service-based businesses.

In one published law firm case study, the agency reported a 68% increase in organic traffic, a 170% increase in Google rankings, and 240 SEO-generated leads in 2024.

While results vary by business and market, RDM uses performance data like this to help clients understand whether increased visibility is translating into meaningful opportunities.

Why Local SEO Matters in Mount Pleasant

Mount Pleasant continues to grow, which also means more competition for the attention of local consumers.

Potential customers frequently turn to Google to compare businesses, read reviews, visit websites, and decide who they trust before ever making a phone call.

Businesses that appear prominently during that research process have a greater opportunity to build credibility and win the lead. Those that are difficult to find may lose potential customers to competitors before they ever have the chance to make an impression.

Because Results Driven Marketing is located in Mount Pleasant, the agency combines knowledge of the local market with experience managing digital marketing campaigns across the country.

A More Complete Approach to Digital Growth

SEO is only one part of Results Driven Marketing's approach.

The agency also works across Google Ads and PPC, web design, online reputation management, content marketing, social media, AI visibility, call tracking, and conversion strategy.

This gives businesses one team looking at the bigger picture instead of treating every marketing channel separately.

Results Driven Marketing focuses on questions business owners actually care about: Where are the leads coming from? Are they qualified? Is the website converting them? And is marketing helping the business grow?
