Your GOOGLE Girls & Guys

Businesses searching for digital marketing services in Summerville, South Carolina, can turn to Results Driven Marketing® for a strategy focused on one thing above all else: helping marketing create real opportunities for growth.

We want our clients to know more than where they rank. We want them to understand what is creating leads, where opportunities are coming from, and how their marketing is helping the business grow.”

Janeene Bannan, owner, Results Driven Marketing®

Results Driven Marketing works with businesses that want more than website traffic, social activity, or impressive-looking reports. The agency focuses on helping companies get found by the right customers, build trust online, and generate more calls, inquiries, appointments, and qualified leads.

Founded in 2013, Results Driven Marketing brings more than a decade of digital marketing experience and is a certified Google Partner and BBB Accredited Business with an A+ rating. The agency has also received outside recognition from the Philadelphia Business Journal and has been featured by CIO Bulletin.

Better Visibility Is Only the Beginning

Summerville continues to grow, and so does the competition for local customers. A business may provide outstanding service, but if competitors consistently appear higher in Google, have stronger reviews, or provide a better online experience, potential customers may choose them before ever making contact.

That is why Results Driven Marketing looks beyond simply getting a business seen.

The agency helps clients strengthen the entire path from search to click to contact.

SEO can improve local visibility. Google Ads can reach customers who are ready to act. Website improvements can make it easier for visitors to take the next step. Content can build authority and answer important customer questions. Reputation management can strengthen the trust that often influences the final decision.

When those pieces work together, digital marketing becomes a growth strategy instead of a collection of disconnected services.

Results That Go Beyond Clicks and Rankings

Results Driven Marketing works with businesses in competitive industries including legal services, healthcare, home care, professional services, franchises, and other service-based markets.

In one published SEO case study, the agency reported a 68% increase in organic traffic, a 170% increase in Google rankings, and 240 SEO-generated leads in 2024. Results vary by business and market, but RDM's philosophy remains the same: marketing should ultimately support meaningful business outcomes.

One Team Looking at the Bigger Picture

Many businesses begin looking for a new marketing company because something simply is not working. Lead flow may have slowed. Competitors may be gaining ground online. Google Ads may be spending money without producing enough opportunities.

The website may be attracting visitors without converting them.

Results Driven Marketing helps business owners step back and look at the complete picture. Services include SEO, Google Ads and PPC, website design, online reputation management, content marketing, social media, AI visibility strategies, call tracking, and other lead-generation solutions.

Rather than treating each channel as a separate project, the agency looks at how they work together to help a business get noticed, earn trust, and win more opportunities.
