

Atlas Quant Closes Oversubscribed SEIS Tranche in Under Seven Weeks as Institutional Adoption Accelerates

Atlas Quant closes oversubscribed SEIS in under seven weeks, now finalising EIS and international allocations

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, August 21, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The round is anchored by a consortium of senior trading heads, portfolio managers and quantitative researchers, alongside UK and international investors with backgrounds spanning Citadel, Millennium, BlackRock, Brevan Howard, Morgan Stanley, Citi, Marshall Wace, Point72 and Qube Research & Technologies.

Their participation provides further validation of the scale and urgency of the problem Atlas addresses, the depth of its proprietary quantitative IP, and the calibre of the team building the platform. Atlas estimates that poor strategy selection, false positives, model failure and related investment-decision errors represent a $100B+ annual economic problem across the US and UK alone, creating a substantial addressable market for independent strategy verification.

The financing follows rapid institutional adoption of Atlas Prime. Shortly after launch, Atlas entered production with a leading global institutional investment organisation representing more than $70 billion in assets under management, while demand has expanded to a waiting list of more than 50 prospective institutional users and organisations.

Atlas Prime provides an independent forensic decision layer for evaluating investment strategies and traders, helping institutions identify overfitting, instability, regime sensitivity, deterioration and other weaknesses that conventional performance metrics can miss before capital is deployed.

“The calibre of investors joining Atlas is an important validation of the problem we are solving, the defensibility of our proprietary IP and the quality of the team we have built,” said Selim Adyel, CEO of Atlas Quant. “AI is dramatically increasing the number of strategies and backtests that can be generated. The bottleneck is increasingly determining which performance is genuinely robust before capital is committed.”

The investor syndicate includes senior practitioners from some of the world’s most sophisticated quantitative and investment organisations — professionals who encounter the strategy-evaluation problem directly and understand the difficulty of solving it at institutional scale.

Atlas is now finalising a limited number of EIS and international allocations in the current financing round as it expands product development, institutional deployment and distribution.
