

Celebrating National Dog Day: Meet the Dogs of Better Path Homes

Showcasing the dogs who make our team smile and the compassion that defines our culture.

CHARLOTTE, NC, UNITED STATES, August 26, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- At Better Path Homes, dogs have always been part of our story: from office companions and renovation day sidekicks to the four-legged family members who show up on Zoom calls. This National Dog Day, we're celebrating the pets who bring joy, personality, and a whole lot of tail wags to our team.

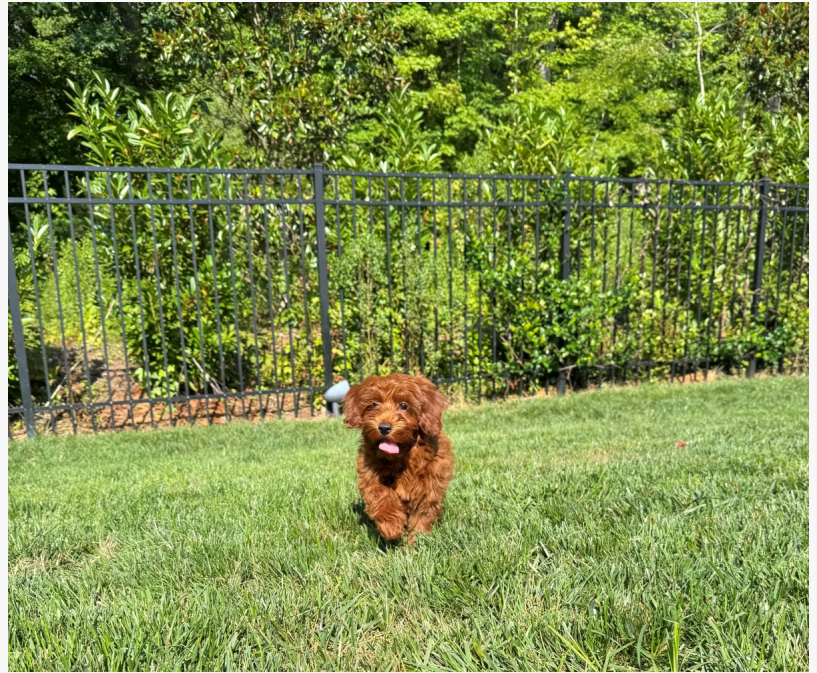

What began as a small section on our Life at Better Path Homes page quickly proved too small. Our team's dogs (and a few other furry friends) deserved more than a quick cameo, so we created a dedicated space just for them.

Today, we're excited to introduce Dogs of Better Path Homes, a full page showcasing the pets who brighten our days and embody the heart of our culture.

The new page features:

- A photo gallery of our dogs (don't worry, cat lovers – other animals will be featured soon)
- Fun personality spotlights
- A look at the pets who inspire smiles across our team
- A reminder that home is about the lives that live inside it

National Dog Day is the perfect moment to share this part of who we are. Our pets remind us daily of the comfort, joy, and connection that make a house feel like home.

We're also taking a moment to remember the pets we've met throughout our work. Over the years, our team has stepped in during seller transitions to make sure pets weren't left behind. Kasey has rescued both dogs and cats, including Duke, an older hound she brought home and nursed back to health after finding him left behind for months. Grace has stepped in as well, from rehoming a cat left at a Mooresville property to caring for dogs left during difficult moves. And Noël, one of our longest-tenured team members, has helped rescue more than twenty animals, including Magnolia, a Great Pyrenees puppy found after a storm; Sugarpug, who delivered her first puppy (Ryder) on her ride home in Noël's car; Honeybee, a one-pound surprise discovered in a seller's home; and Gentry, a blue pit bull who ended up defending his new owners' home during an attempted break-in.

These moments weren't part of anyone's job description; they were simply acts of compassion that reflect the heart behind Better Path Homes.

About Better Path Homes

Better Path Homes is a Charlotte-based home-buying team dedicated to providing sellers with clarity, honesty, and a smooth experience from start to finish. We focus on transparent communication, straightforward options, and solutions that respect each seller's unique situation. Our work centers on helping homeowners move forward with confidence, without pressure, confusion, or surprises. At Better Path Homes, we believe homes are more than properties; they're places where families grow, memories are made, and life unfolds. Our work is rooted in honoring those stories while providing sellers with a clear, reliable, better path forward.
