Inspiring Connection Through Creative Storytelling

Carlos Cymerman, Founder of Recruiting for Good and The Brentwood Social Club LA, shared the vision behind the initiative:

"Katsuya has long been my favorite sushi spot in Brentwood, and for over 15 years, I've loved bringing women together through parties and creative writing contests. 'LA Ladies Love Sushi' brings together my three greatest passions: creative writing, sushi, and hosting meaningful events for purpose-driven professional women on LinkedIn. We want to hear how books have shaped who you are today in just one sentence—and reward inspiring voices with $100 Katsuya dining cards and private party invitations. To get started we have a Launch party on Thursday September 10th, 2026 at 5pm. Love to attend launch party Ladies Love Sushi Email Sara@TheBrentwoodSocialClub.LA Tell Her Something Meaningful You are Doing in LA! To Earn Invite."

The 13-week campaign officially opens on Labor Day, Monday, September 7, 2026, running through Monday, December 7, 2026. Each Monday, Recruiting for Good will unveil a fresh creative prompt, with weekly winners announced every Friday.

For the inaugural week, participants are invited to reflect on a central question: "Can one sentence change your life for good?" Entrants must share in a single, tweet-length sentence how books have shaped their lives. To celebrate the elegance and personal artistry of classic penmanship, all entries must be handwritten in cursive. Participants simply take a clear photograph of their handwritten sentence and email the image along with their age to Sara@RecruitingforGood.com.
