These property nominations sit alongside a strong showing in the island-specific categories which include multiple entries for leading beach resorts, boutique hotels, family resorts, hotel suites, luxury hotel villas, wedding resorts, car rental companies and tour operators.

The dual recognition of both the destination and its individual properties highlights Anguilla's consistent delivery of world-class luxury, beaches, cuisine and guest experiences.

Winners will be announced at the World Travel Awards Caribbean & The Americas Gala Ceremony on Oct. 11, 2026, at Princess Grand Jamaica.

Voting remains open at www.worldtravelawards.com/vote until Aug. 28, 2026. Both public and verified travel-industry votes are accepted; industry votes count double.

"We are deeply honored by these nominations which reflect the collective excellence of Anguilla's tourism partners, the warmth of our people and the authentic experiences that continue to set our destination apart," said Jameel Rochester, Anguilla's director of tourism. "We invite everyone who has experienced Anguilla to cast their vote and help celebrate what makes Anguilla special."
