

CarePolicy.US Expands U.S. Operations with New Office in Alexandria, Virginia

The new headquarters strengthens the company's U.S. presence and supports its nationwide licensing, compliance, consulting and business-development services.

ALEXANDRIA, VA, UNITED STATES, September 1, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- CarePolicy.US | Homecare Policy & Procedures, a licensing and compliance company serving home care and healthcare entrepreneurs nationwide, announced the opening of a new office in Alexandria, Virginia. The new headquarters marks an important stage in the company's growth and strengthens its ability to support providers nationwide.

The Alexandria office serves as the headquarters for CarePolicy.US, supporting providers, developing industry relationships and coordinating its nationwide activities. From Alexandria, the company will continue serving organizations across the country through consultation, documentation support and relationship-based engagement.

CarePolicy.US assists entrepreneurs and established providers with state licensing guidance, policy and procedure development, certification preparation, compliance consulting and business development. Its clients include home care, home health, group home, assisted living, behavioral health, adult care and child care organizations operating under state-specific requirements.

"When I founded CarePolicy.US in 2019, I set out with one goal: to provide practical, reliable services to home care and healthcare businesses across America," said Anton Fonseca, founder and principal consultant of CarePolicy.US. "After seven years of hard work, learning and building a team, opening our dedicated headquarters in Alexandria is a milestone I am deeply grateful for. Alexandria gives CarePolicy.US a stronger base for supporting providers, developing industry relationships and continuing our growth nationwide."

The company said it has grown to a team of over 30 highly experienced consultants and has supported more than 1000 providers across all 50 states. CarePolicy.US focuses on translating complex licensing and regulatory requirements into practical documentation, operating processes and consulting guidance for healthcare and care-service businesses.

The opening of the Alexandria headquarters follows CarePolicy.US's participation in the U.S. Department of Commerce's SelectUSA Investment Summit in May 2026, where the company joined founders, investors and policymakers and engaged with Virginia's business community. The Alexandria headquarters strengthens those relationships and provides a dedicated base for partnerships in Virginia and across the country.

"Business travel has taught me that every city has its own personality, shaped by its people, industries and ideas," Anton Fonseca added. "This office is more than an address. It gives our team a place to build closer relationships, learn from the market and continue improving how we support providers throughout the United States."

CarePolicy.US plans to use its Alexandria headquarters for client consultation, business development, partner engagement and nationwide service coordination.
