

Carey Reddick Returns to Maui to Lead Edward Jones Branch in Kahului

Financial professional brings more than 16 years of experience in finance, mortgage lending and real estate back to the island he once called home.

KAHULUI , HI, UNITED STATES, August 25, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Financial professional brings more than 16 years of experience in finance, mortgage lending and real estate back to the island he once called home.

KAHULUI, Hawaii — ACD Group, a marketing and public relations firm, recently sat down with financial advisor Carey Reddick to discuss an exciting new chapter in his career: taking over an Edward Jones branch in Kahului on the island of Maui.

Reddick brings more than 16 years of experience in the financial industry, with a background spanning financial services, mortgage lending and real estate. His broad experience gives him a unique perspective when helping individuals and families look at their financial lives as a whole and work toward their long-term goals.

For Reddick, however, the move to Maui is about more than business. It is a return to a place that has long felt like home.

When ACD Group asked what he is most looking forward to, his answer was simple:

“Getting back home.”

After graduating from college, Reddick moved to Maui and spent four years living on the island. Now, he is returning to serve the Maui community as an Edward Jones financial advisor.

"I'm excited to build relationships, serve the people of Maui and help clients feel confident about where they are going financially," said Reddick. "For me, it's not just about investments. It's about understanding what matters to each client and helping them build a strategy around the life they want."

Reddick's experience in finance, mortgage lending and real estate allows him to bring a broad perspective to conversations involving retirement, investments, wealth-building strategies, estate considerations and other long-term financial goals.

Customer service and personal relationships remain at the center of his approach.

When asked what he enjoys most about working with clients, Reddick said it is seeing their goals become reality.

Whether someone is preparing for retirement, building wealth, navigating a major life transition or simply looking for a financial advisor who will take the time to listen, Reddick says his goal is to provide personalized service and build lasting relationships with the individuals and families he serves.
