

Hawaii Car Transport Launches Air Cargo Vehicle Shipping Between Los Angeles and Honolulu

New service gives automobile and motorcycle customers a faster alternative to ocean shipping between the mainland and Hawaii.

HONOLULU, HI, UNITED STATES, August 25, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Hawaii Car Transport, a leading provider of Hawaii vehicle shipping services to and from Honolulu, Hilo, Kahului, Kona and Nawiliwili, today announced the launch of scheduled air cargo service between Los Angeles and Honolulu, becoming the first and only vehicle shipping company to offer customers both air and ocean transport options between the U.S. mainland and Hawaii.

Air cargo is the fastest way to move a vehicle across the Pacific. The flight itself takes about 5½ hours, and with departures nearly every day, vehicles are typically ready for pickup just 4-5 days after drop-off, compared with 2-3 weeks by ship. There is no faster option in the Hawaii vehicle shipping market.

"For decades, shipping a vehicle to or from Hawaii has meant working around weekly sailing schedules and two to three weeks on the water," said Paul Diorio of Hawaii Car Transport. "Starting today, our customers see both options side by side: the same dependable ocean service they know, and an air cargo option that has their vehicle on the other side of the Pacific in days. No other vehicle shipping company offers that choice."

Instant quotes, online booking. The company's quote calculator at www.hawaiicartransport.com shows pricing and live departure schedules side by side, with full online booking for both services. Nationwide residential pickup is available, with vehicles collected at the customer's door and trucked to the Los Angeles port.

"Riders are protective of their machines," Diorio added. "Air cargo puts a motorcycle across the Pacific in hours and back under its owner in days. For most riders, that difference is the whole story."

Highlights of the new service:

- First and only vehicle shipping company offering both air and ocean transport between the mainland and Hawaii
- Fastest available transit: about a 5.5-hour flight, with pickup typically 4-5 days after drop-off
- Near-daily scheduled departures between Los Angeles and Honolulu, in both directions
- Instant online quotes comparing air and ocean pricing and schedules side by side
- Door-to-port service with residential vehicle pickup available nationwide

Instant quotes for both services are available at www.hawaiicartransport.com, or by phone at (808) 445-6695.
