Credibly Named to Inc. 5000 List of America’s Fastest-Growing Private Companies for the Fourth Time

Recognition follows a milestone year of growth and innovation for the small business financing platform

DETROIT , MI, UNITED STATES, August 26, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Credibly, the AI-powered working capital company that champions small and medium-sized businesses (SMBs), has been named to the 2026 Inc. 5000 list of the fastest-growing private companies in America. This marks Credibly’s fourth appearance on the prestigious annual list since its inception more than 15 years ago.

Credibly joins a diverse group of companies recognized this year, including SpaceX, livestream shopping platform Whatnot and prominent fintech companies Sunbit, Payabli and Green Check.

“Being recognized on the Inc. 5000 for the fourth time is an important milestone for Credibly and a reflection of the team we’ve built,” said Ryan Rosett, co-founder and co-CEO of Credibly. “Small business financing has changed considerably since we founded the company, and we have continued to grow and evolve with it. We’ve invested in cutting-edge technology, expanded our capabilities and strengthened the platform behind our financing products while remaining focused on our number one mission — helping small business owners access the capital they need to grow.”

Founded in 2010, Credibly provides working capital and other financing solutions to small and medium-sized businesses across the United States. The company combines advanced data science, artificial intelligence, and more than 15 years of lending experience to evaluate businesses beyond the limitations of traditional credit models, delivering faster, more informed financing decisions.

Credibly has provided more than $3 billion in financing to over 65,000 small businesses nationwide. Recent company milestones include securing more than $260 million in new financing, obtaining two GenAI patents designed to help scale small-business financing, and becoming the first small-business lender to bring small-business lending on-chain through its partnership with Figure Marketplace.

The company has also continued to expand its use of generative AI and predictive analytics across its lending platform. These investments have helped Credibly improve operational efficiency, provide more personalized financing options, and create a faster, more streamlined experience for small business owners.

“For us, growth comes from continuing to solve real, everyday problems for business owners,” Rosett added. “Technology allows us to move faster and make better data-backed decisions, while our deep experience helps us understand the people and businesses behind the data. This recognition reflects the result of both.”

The 2026 recognition marks Credibly’s fourth appearance on the Inc. 5000.

Companies on the 2026 Inc. 5000 are ranked by their revenue growth percentage from 2022 through 2025. To qualify, companies must be privately held, for-profit, based in the United States, and independently operated. Honorees must also meet Inc.’s revenue requirements and pass an editorial review.
According to Inc., the companies on this year’s list generated $385 billion in revenue in 2025, highlighting the continued impact of privately held businesses on the U.S. economy.
