TX, UNITED STATES, August 26, 2026

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The Ramage Law Group, a trusted family law firm serving North Texas, today announced subscription pricing, a fixed monthly billing model for family law services, effective August 1, 2026. The program replaces traditional hourly retainers with predictable, transparent costs for divorce, custody, adoption, and other family matters.

After 30-plus years practicing family law, one thing has never sat right with me: families in the middle of the hardest moment of their lives shouldn't also be afraid to open an invoice.”

Founded by Sharon Ramage — a former social worker and Tarrant County Assistant District Attorney with more than 30 years in family law — the firm has long focused on helping families move through legal transitions with clarity and dignity. Subscription pricing extends that philosophy to how clients pay for legal services.

Clients pay a predictable monthly fee tied to the scope of their matter, covering attorney consultation, document review and preparation, court filing coordination, and ongoing communication. Each client receives a written scope agreement up front and monthly summaries of work performed, removing the anxiety of a running meter.

The Ramage Law Group is among the first family law firms in North Texas to offer subscription billing across a full range of matters — divorce, high-asset divorce, custody, support, fathers' rights, adoption, collaborative law, and post-decree modifications.

“The old billing model was built for the firm. We built this one for the client,” Ramage said. “When clients can plan for legal costs the way they plan for a mortgage or health premium, they make better decisions — for themselves and their children.”

Subscription pricing is available now at The Ramage Law Group’s McKinney, Frisco, and Dallas offices, serving clients throughout Collin, Denton, Dallas and Tarrant Counties.
