

Stanton University Students Build Confidence and Communication Skills at Public Speaking Seminar

ANAHEIM, CA, UNITED STATES, August 26, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Stanton University students recently had the opportunity to strengthen their communication skills and build greater confidence during a Public Speaking Seminar hosted by the ISM Student Club on August 10, 2026.

Designed to help students become more confident and effective communicators, the seminar focused on practical public speaking techniques that can be applied in both academic and professional settings. Students explored key elements of effective communication, including voice projection, eye contact, body posture, overall speaking techniques, and confidence.

The session was led by Mr. Daniel Kim, Librarian and Director of Student Affairs at Stanton University, who shared practical insights and guidance to help students improve their public speaking abilities. Through the seminar, students learned how effective communication goes beyond simply delivering information—it also involves engaging an audience, presenting ideas clearly, and communicating with confidence.

Stanton University students participate in the Public Speaking Seminar hosted by the ISM Student Club on August 10.

Mr. Daniel Kim, Librarian and Director of Student Affairs, shares practical techniques for improving public speaking and communication skills.

Building Skills for Academic and Career Success

Strong communication skills are essential for students regardless of their academic major. Whether participating in classroom discussions, delivering presentations, interviewing for internships and jobs, or communicating in the workplace, the ability to speak clearly and confidently can make a meaningful difference.

The seminar provided students with useful techniques for becoming more aware of their voice, posture, eye contact, and overall presence when speaking in front of others. By practicing these skills, students can develop greater confidence and become more effective communicators.

Students engage in interactive activities designed to strengthen communication skills and build confidence.

Stanton University extends its appreciation to Mr. Daniel Kim for sharing his expertise and to the ISM Student Club for organizing this valuable learning opportunity for the university community.

The seminar reflects Stanton University's commitment to providing students with opportunities to develop not only academically, but also personally and professionally.

Stay tuned for more student club events, seminars, and workshops at Stanton University!

Media Department

Stanton University

+1 714-539-6561

email us here

Visit us on social media:

LinkedIn

Instagram

Facebook

YouTube

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/937269160>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2026 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.