

B&H Worldwide Appoints Matt Silverberg as Chief Executive Officer to Lead Next Phase of Global Growth

B&H Worldwide, the global leader in aerospace logistics, has appointed Matt Silverberg as Chief Executive Officer (CEO), effective immediately.

HEATHROW, LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, August 27, 2026

/EINPresswire.com/ -- B&H Worldwide, the global leader in aerospace logistics, has announced the appointment of Matt Silverberg as Chief Executive Officer (CEO), effective immediately.

Silverberg succeeds Stuart Allen, who assumes the role of Chairman & Board Advisor after serving as CEO for the past thirteen years. Based in the United States, Silverberg will lead B&H Worldwide's global operations and strategic growth initiatives, while Allen will continue to provide strategic direction and support the executive leadership team from Singapore.

I am honoured to join B&H Worldwide at such an exciting point in its journey. The company has built an outstanding global reputation over nearly four decades...”

Matt Silverberg, CEO

The appointment marks a significant milestone in B&H Worldwide's continued evolution as the company strengthens its position as a trusted logistics partner to airlines, MROs, OEMs, aerospace manufacturers and spare parts providers worldwide.

Silverberg brings extensive executive leadership experience across time-critical logistics, supply chain and professional services. Throughout his career, he has successfully led organisations ranging from high-growth businesses to global enterprises, holding senior executive positions including Chief Executive Officer and Chief Commercial Officer. His track record includes delivering sustained revenue growth through both organic expansion and strategic acquisitions, leading business transformation programmes, and building high-performing international teams.

His appointment comes at a time when the aerospace industry continues to experience increasing demand for resilient, responsive and technology-enabled supply chain solutions as global fleets expand and maintenance activity accelerates.

Matt Silverberg, Chief Executive Officer of B&H Worldwide, said:

"I am honoured to join B&H Worldwide at such an exciting point in its journey. The company has built an outstanding global reputation over nearly four decades by consistently delivering specialist logistics solutions to the aerospace industry when reliability and speed matter most.

What attracted me to B&H is its customer-first culture, its exceptional people and its relentless focus on operational excellence. Together with our talented global team, I look forward to building on this strong foundation, investing in innovation, strengthening our international capabilities and creating even greater value for our customers and partners around the world."

Following the leadership transition, Stuart Allen will continue to play an active role in shaping the company's long-term strategy as Chairman, working closely with Silverberg and the executive leadership team to support B&H Worldwide's continued international growth.

Stuart Allen, Chairman of B&H Worldwide, said:

"After leading B&H Worldwide through a period of significant growth and transformation, I am delighted to welcome Matt as our new Chief Executive Officer. His extensive leadership experience, commercial expertise and proven ability to scale international businesses make him the ideal person to lead B&H into its next chapter.

Our business has always been built on long-term customer relationships, operational excellence and a commitment to delivering specialist aerospace logistics solutions across the globe. Matt shares these values and brings fresh perspectives that will help us continue to innovate, expand our capabilities and strengthen our position as the partner of choice for the global aerospace industry.

As Chairman, I look forward to supporting Matt and the executive team as we continue executing our long-term strategy and delivering sustainable growth for our customers, employees and stakeholders."

Since its establishment in 1988, B&H Worldwide has become one of the world's leading providers of aerospace logistics solutions, supporting airlines, MROs, OEMs, defence organisations and aviation suppliers through a global network of strategically located aerospace logistics hubs. The company provides a comprehensive range of specialist services, including Aircraft on Ground (AOG) logistics, time-critical transportation, aerospace warehousing, inventory management, aircraft engine logistics, onboard courier services and supply chain management solutions.

With Silverberg's appointment and Allen's continued strategic leadership as Chairman, B&H Worldwide is well positioned to accelerate its growth strategy, expand its global footprint and continue delivering innovative, customer-focused logistics solutions that keep the world's aerospace industry moving.
