Galliott Capital Advisors Welcomes Chris Jarrous as Chief Investment Officer

Veteran portfolio manager joins the Beverly Hills based multi-family office to lead investment strategy for global clients.

BEVERLY HILLS, CA, UNITED STATES, August 27, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Galliott Capital Advisors, a Beverly Hills based multi-family office serving ultra-high-net-worth families worldwide, today announced that Chris Jarrous has joined the firm as Chief Investment Officer, effective immediately.

Jarrous joins Galliott Capital Advisors from Dunlap Equity Management, where he served as Partner, Chief Investment Officer, Principal and Portfolio Manager. In his new role, he will oversee the firm's investment strategy and portfolio management, working directly with Galliott's roster of multigenerational families on public, private and special situation investments.

Antoine Souma, Founder of Galliott Capital Advisors, said the appointment reflects the firm's ongoing commitment to assembling the right people around the families it serves.

“I’ve known Chris since 2017, long enough to know that his instincts are exactly what this work requires,” said Souma. “Sophisticated families do not simply need investment management. They need someone who can hold complexity without losing clarity, and Chris has always had that ability. He listens carefully, he thinks globally, and he has a rare talent for translating what is technical into what is actually meaningful for the people in front of him. Bringing him onto the team is part of coordinating the right expertise around our families, and Galliott is stronger for having him here.”

Jarrous said he was drawn to Galliott Capital Advisors’ relationship-driven approach and its focus on the complex, cross-border needs of multigenerational families.

“I’m genuinely excited to be joining Galliott Capital Advisors,” said Jarrous. “Antoine Souma has built something special here, a firm that treats every family’s situation as its own and coordinates the right expertise around them rather than chasing short-term wins. I’m looking forward to working alongside this team and bringing my experience in portfolio management and compliance to help our families navigate an increasingly complex global investment landscape.”

Galliott Capital Advisors is a boutique, founder-led family office serving globally minded, multigenerational families. Rather than a narrow investment relationship, the firm operates as an extended family office, coordinating public, private and special situation investments alongside governance, risk management and long-term succession planning across borders.
