

Marquis Who's Who Honors Brandy G. Robinson for Expertise in Regulatory Affairs & Compliance in the Biomedical Industry

Brandy G. Robinson is recognized for her leadership as the founder and chief executive officer of Zebra MedNex

SAN DIEGO, CA, UNITED STATES, August 27, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Brandy G. Robinson has been selected for inclusion in Marquis Who's Who, recognizing individuals profiled on the basis of current reference value, including position, noteworthy accomplishments, visibility, and prominence in their field.

Ms. Robinson's distinguished career is marked by a rare blend of regulatory expertise, creative achievement and entrepreneurial leadership.”

Marquis Who's Who

Ms. Robinson's career is defined by regulatory expertise, creative achievement, and entrepreneurial leadership. Since 2023, she has served as the founder and chief executive officer of Zebra MedNex, a platform launched to bridge critical gaps between medical research and patient care. Prompted by her own experience with a benign brain tumor diagnosis, Ms. Robinson developed an AI-driven tool to connect doctors and patients with relevant research directly inside case management systems. Her vision for Zebra MedNex focuses on advocacy and empowerment rather than profit. Under her leadership, the company was nominated for an Edison Award in 2026.

Her background in regulatory and product compliance spans the biomedical, nutraceutical, and technology sectors. Ms. Robinson has held significant operational roles, including Senior Regulatory Affairs Specialist at Magic Leap, Regulatory Affairs Officer at Traatek and OMT, Quality Assurance Manager at Celsius, and Vice President and Head of Regulatory Affairs and Compliance at Co-Diagnostics. She has served as a Senior Regulatory Affairs Specialist at a biomedical company since 2024.

Earlier, Ms. Robinson served as a United Nations delegate for the Commission on the Status of Women through the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom from 2014 to 2016. Her legal foundation includes working at Brown & Stanley PC in Detroit, serving in a prosecutorial role in the City Attorney's Office in Flint, Michigan, under Acting City Attorney Karen L. Folks, and completing a judicial externship with the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan under the mentorship of the Late Hon. U.S. District Judge Avern L. Cohn. She also gained early experience as a legislative intern for Former State Representative Jim Howell and as a student attorney at the Sixty Plus Elder Law Clinic.

Alongside her corporate career, Ms. Robinson has worked as an associate professor-lecturer since 2003, partnering exclusively with academic programs that align with her values. Her extensive academic credentials include a Bachelor of Arts in political science, cum laude, earned by age 20 on a full music scholarship, a Master of Arts in history from Jackson State University, a Doctor of Jurisprudence (JD) from Cooley Law School earned by age 24, a Master of Laws (LLM) in transnational law from Willamette University, and a Master of Business Administration (MBA) in international management and marketing from Northeastern University. She is also a certified Six Sigma master black belt.

In 2017, Ms. Robinson delivered a TEDx talk in Portland titled “Your Narrative is Your Super Power.” Her civic engagement includes serving on the board of the Society of Presidential Historians in Academia (SOPHIA), maintaining membership in Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Inc., and supporting research and advocacy for chronic illnesses, brain tumors and Sjögren’s disease.

Creatively, she writes under the pen name Bea Giovanni. Her portfolio includes “Bernice Rathe” (adapted into a novel, comic book series, and screenplay), “Ebony and Ella” (a children’s book series), and numerous unpublished scripts. She received finalist recognition for the Oxford Script Awards and Cambridge Script Awards in 2026, alongside placements in other major competitions.

Ms. Robinson has earned multiple accolades, including three Excellence in Teaching Awards between 2008 and 2010. Grounded in the values of personal accountability and kindness instilled by her late mother, she continues to pursue professional development, creative storytelling, and impactful leadership.
