

Real Estate Law Veteran Jonathan Bloch Launches Bloch Advisory Services

Guides High-End Residential and Commercial Property Owners Through Complex Real Estate Transactions

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, August 28, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Jonathan R. Bloch, a veteran real estate attorney and advisor with more than three decades of experience representing high-net-worth individuals, developers, investors and private investment firms, today announced the launch of Bloch Advisory Services (BAS), a boutique legal advisory practice focused on sophisticated real estate, development, financing and disaster recovery matters.

A significant focus of BAS is helping owners of high-value residential properties in Pacific Palisades who lost their homes in the devastating 2025 wildfires navigate the complex process of rebuilding. For homeowners undertaking a once-in-a-lifetime project involving insurance claims, architects, contractors, financing, permitting, zoning, governmental agencies and a host of other professionals, BAS draws on more than 30 years of experience in Southern California's real estate market to serve as the project's strategic quarterback—coordinating the right people, anticipating potential obstacles and ensuring every aspect of the reconstruction moves forward efficiently and in parallel.

"Rebuilding a luxury home after a catastrophic loss is not simply a construction project, it is a highly complex real estate, financial, regulatory and risk-management undertaking," said Bloch. "Homeowners need someone who understands the entire landscape and can help them make informed decisions, identify potential problems before they become expensive obstacles, and coordinate with the professionals necessary to get the project completed."

In addition to disaster recovery and reconstruction, BAS advises clients on high-value residential and commercial development, real estate finance and compliance, strategic land use and development, and outside general counsel matters. The practice works with high-net-worth individuals, family offices, developers, investors and private companies on complex real estate transactions and development projects.

Bloch has negotiated and closed more than $1.4 billion in real estate transactions and has represented buyers and sellers in some of Southern California's most significant ultra-high-end residential transactions. He is also nationally recognized for his experience with EB-5 financing and affordable housing and has secured more than $800 million in EB-5 financing for commercial and residential projects.

"After decades practicing at the highest levels of real estate law, I saw an opportunity to provide something different," Bloch said. "BAS is intentionally designed to be highly responsive, entrepreneurial and hands-on. Our clients are dealing with important and often extremely complicated decisions, and they deserve an advisor who is accessible, understands their objectives and can help them move from problem to solution."
