The 2026 Small Business Awards demonstrate that success within a smaller organisation can take many forms. The recognised businesses have combined commercial focus with practical efforts to improve accessibility, strengthen local economies, support customers and create more sustainable ways of operating.

Their progress has also required adaptability. From investing in new systems and technology to refining services around the people who use them, this year’s winners and finalists have shown how carefully considered decisions can support both growth and long-term resilience.

Altaris Business Awards congratulates all winners and finalists in the 2026 Small Business Awards. Their work reflects the valuable contribution small businesses make to their industries, communities and wider economies.
