

Posh Buster by Zarysy Jan Sekuła Wins Gold at the A' Interior Design Awards

A' Design Award Recognizes Posh Buster, an Expressive Residential Interior Balancing Refinement and Play

COMO, CO, ITALY, August 31, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Design Award has announced Posh Buster by Zarysy Jan Sekuła as a Gold winner in the Interior Space and Exhibition Design category. The A' Design Award is a highly respected, internationally juried competition that promotes excellence and innovation across the interior design field, and the Gold distinction is reserved for works that demonstrate considerable skill and thoughtful execution. This recognition positions Posh Buster among a selective group of interior projects acknowledged for advancing standards within the discipline. The selection followed a rigorous evaluation by a panel of design professionals, industry experts, and academics. For Zarysy Jan Sekuła, the honor affirms a carefully considered approach to residential design.

Posh Buster

The recognition of Posh Buster carries relevance for interior designers, homeowners, and industry professionals seeking spaces that reconcile expressive character with everyday comfort. As contemporary residential interiors increasingly favor fluid, open environments, Posh Buster demonstrates how kitchen, dining, and living areas can operate as a single continuous sequence while private zones remain intimate. The project reflects current interest in natural materials, custom joinery, and integrated systems that support both function and clarity. Its measured handling of structural constraints and large garden openings offers a practical reference for designers working within demanding site conditions. For users, the result is a calm, cohesive setting shaped for sustained daily living.

Posh Buster is distinguished by a deliberate mix of cultural references and design languages, where noble materials, bold colors, soft curves, and graphic accents are composed into a single coherent atmosphere. A warm, elegant base of American walnut and stone is intentionally disrupted by playful gestures, creating a controlled tension that defines the interior's character. Custom MDF veneer cabinetry, steel, and quartz surfaces establish a restrained yet expressive material palette. A structurally inventive staircase, sculptural ceilings, and seamlessly integrated open plan zones contribute to a clear spatial identity. Millimeter accurate 3D modeling ensured precision, continuity, and quality throughout execution.

The Gold A' Design Award recognition is expected to support Zarysy Jan Sekuła in pursuing further projects that explore the balance between elegance and informality, order and spontaneity. The honor reinforces the studio's commitment to translating complex, multi-layered concepts into coherent spatial systems, even within advancing construction processes. By demonstrating that bespoke elements, hidden systems, and unconventional details can coexist with buildability and functionality, the project may encourage continued experimentation across the practice. The recognition serves as motivation for the team to refine its methods and contribute thoughtfully to the broader interior design community.

About Posh Buster Interior

Posh Buster is a house interior shaped by a balance between refinement and play. Wood and stone form the base, contrasted with color accents, curved forms, and graphic elements. The space is organized as a continuous sequence, where transitions guide movement and define zones. Custom joinery and integrated systems support function and clarity, while careful detailing ensures durability, usability, and a consistent spatial experience. Fluid spaces, sculptural elements, and natural materials create a calm, cohesive environment for everyday living.

About Zarysy Jan Sekuła
