/EINPresswire.com/ -- LATRO today announced the appointment of Alothman Group International CPA (AGI) Jordan, a member of Kreston Global, to provide local accounting, tax, payroll, and business support services for the company's operations in Jordan.

The appointment follows LATRO's recent expansion into Jordan and the establishment of its office in Amman, which serves as an important hub for talent, regional collaboration, and customer support activities.

Whenever we enter a new market, one of our priorities is putting the right local support structure in place from the start,”

Donald Reinhart, CEO, LATRO

As LATRO grows its presence across the Middle East, the company continues to invest in the people, partnerships, and operational structures needed to support its teams and customers across the region.

Under the agreement, AGI Jordan will provide a range of business support services, including accounting, tax compliance, payroll administration, and related financial operations. The partnership will help ensure that LATRO's

Jordan operations remain aligned with local regulatory requirements while supporting day-to-day business activities.

"Whenever we enter a new market, one of our priorities is putting the right local support structure in place from the start," said Donald Reinhart, Chief Executive Officer of LATRO.

"Jordan is an important part of our regional strategy, and AGI brings the local expertise and professionalism we were looking for in a long-term partner. Their team will help support our operations in-country, allowing our employees and leadership teams to stay focused on serving customers and growing the business."

The selection of AGI reflects LATRO's approach of combining global standards with experienced local partners who understand the unique regulatory and business environments in the markets where the company operates.

For LATRO, strong operational governance is an important part of delivering reliable services to customers and maintaining the financial integrity required to support continued growth. As the company expands, local partnerships play an important role in ensuring consistency across finance, compliance, and employee support functions.

"We are pleased to support LATRO's operations in Jordan," said Faisal Othman, Executive Director.

"LATRO has established a strong reputation in the telecommunications and digital services sectors, and we look forward to supporting the company's continued growth by providing reliable and compliant business support services."

The partnership marks another step in LATRO's long-term investment in the region and reinforces the company's commitment to building sustainable operations that support customers, employees, and partners alike.
