The expansion comes as MGMT Digital continues to grow its presence across the United States. In recent months, the agency has also begun working with clients in Missouri and Oregon, representing additional new markets for the company. With the addition of North Dakota and South Dakota, MGMT Digital has now worked with clients in 32 states since the agency was established in 2017.

MGMT Digital provides comprehensive healthcare marketing strategies built on industry expertise. The agency's services include search engine optimization, paid advertising, website design, branding, content marketing, social media, email marketing, and generative engine optimization.

“Expanding into new states is an exciting milestone for our team, but more importantly, it gives us the opportunity to support healthcare organizations in communities we haven't previously served,” said Jake Gorman, COO of MGMT Digital. “As we enter new markets, we're committed to bringing the same level of expertise, communication, and personalized service that has defined MGMT Digital since its founding.”

Founded in 2017, MGMT Digital has built its agency around a specialized understanding of the behavioral healthcare industry. The company takes a collaborative, customized approach to marketing, working as an extension of its clients' internal teams rather than relying on a one-size-fits-all strategy.

The agency's behavioral healthcare marketing capabilities span a broad range of providers, including addiction treatment centers, mental health providers, psychiatrists, telehealth practices, primary care providers, and other healthcare organizations.

MGMT Digital's continued geographic expansion reflects growing demand for specialized digital marketing services among healthcare providers nationwide. As the agency enters new markets, it remains focused on delivering strategies designed around each client's goals, audience, market, and unique challenges.
