BEVERLY HILLS, CA, UNITED STATES, September 2, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dr. Nathalie Dengone Beasnael, author, humanitarian, healthcare professional, and United Nations COP Delegate, celebrated the release of her memoir, We Are Not the Same, with an intimate author discussion and book signing on Saturday, August 29, at Madison Maison Beverly Hills Boutique. The conversation was moderated by R&B music historian Tyrone DuBose, who guided a thoughtful discussion and facilitated audience interaction throughout the afternoon.

Held at Madison Maison Beverly Hills Boutique, the special gathering brought together readers, supporters, distinguished guests, and members of the community for a meaningful conversation centered on identity, culture, adversity, resilience, healing, and self-discovery. A special performance by Dr. Daniel "Danny" Petersen, Grammy Award winner and recipient of the President Barack Obama Lifetime Achievement Award, added a celebratory and inspirational dimension to the afternoon. Madison Maison Beverly Hills Boutique also welcomed attendees with special event-only discounts on selected items, giving guests an opportunity to explore the boutique while celebrating the memoir's release.

Among the distinguished guests in attendance were Dr. Nathalie Dengone Beasnael, author and United Nations COP Delegate; David Assil, owner of Madison Maison Beverly Hills Boutique; Tyrone DuBose, R&B music historian; Dr. Daniel "Danny" Petersen, Grammy Award winner and recipient of the President Barack Obama Lifetime Achievement Award; Lovey Dash, designer, stylist, and event planner; Jack Trent, Founding Partner at JTC CPAs; Wendi Trent, bodybuilder and singer-songwriter; Maya Ito, CEO of ACCA Fine Arts; Marcia Gannon Avnet, playwright and singer-songwriter; Juliette Hagerman, television producer; Jolie Jorie Marie, actress and model; members of the Miss Africa America Pageant; along with many other distinguished guests from the worlds of entertainment, fashion, business, the arts, and culture.

During the event, Dr. Beasnael shared her personal experiences and reflections that inspired We Are Not the Same, giving guests an opportunity to hear directly from her about the journey behind the memoir. She spoke candidly about growing up as the daughter of a diplomat and moving between continents and cultures, as well as the challenges and personal adversity that ultimately shaped her path toward healing and reclaiming her sense of self.

Dr. Beasnael also spoke about the importance of embracing individual experiences rather than comparing one person's journey to another's. She spoke about navigating relationships and adversity, cultivating resilience, discovering authenticity and self-worth, and recognizing the cultural and personal differences that make every individual's story unique.

We Are Not the Same is available for purchase through Amazon.
