

Jazz Imaging Promotes Three Sales Leaders to Accelerate Growth Across Special Markets, Enterprise, and Private Practice

SAN JOSE, CA, UNITED STATES, September 1, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Jazz Imaging, a San Jose-based innovator in dental digital sensors and one of the fastest-growing digital sensor companies in the United States, today announced three leadership promotions as the company continues to expand its presence across dental service organizations, institutions, and private practices.

Jocelyn Miller has been promoted to Chief Revenue Officer. Jenny Fetty has been promoted to Vice President of Sales, Enterprise and Institutional Markets. Mike Rizzo has been promoted to Vice President of Sales, Enterprise and SMB Markets.

The promotions reflect Jazz Imaging's strategy to scale its direct-from-manufacturer model and Jazz Club subscription offering across the full spectrum of dental organizations, from large DSOs and institutions to independent practices.

Jocelyn Miller Named Chief Revenue Officer

Miller, formerly Vice President of Special Markets, will now oversee revenue strategy across both special markets and private practice sales. She will report to Aaron DeCorte, Chief Commercial Officer.

Miller brings more than 20 years of experience managing and growing major accounts at startup and pharmaceutical organizations, including Eli Lilly and Boehringer Ingelheim. Since joining Jazz Imaging five years ago, she has led the company's success with DSOs, dental schools, government entities, and community health centers. She holds an undergraduate degree in Medical Technology and an MBA from San Francisco State University.

"In this period of hyper growth, we are excited to have Jocelyn Miller ascend to the CRO role, encompassing both special markets and private practice sales," said DeCorte. "Since joining us five years ago, Jocelyn and her team have been wildly successful in the DSO and special market space. Having her take on the private practice side will ensure that our growth accelerates to even greater levels."

Jenny Fetty Named Vice President of Sales, Enterprise and Institutional Markets

Fetty, formerly Director of National Accounts, will lead sales strategy and growth across enterprise and institutional markets, including DSOs, universities, FQHCs, CHCs, and other large-scale dental organizations. She will report to Miller.

Fetty has more than 20 years of experience in the dental industry, beginning her career as a dental assistant before moving into leadership roles in private practice, DSO operations, and dental industry sales. That background has shaped her relationship-driven approach to helping organizations implement imaging solutions that improve efficiency, reduce downtime, standardize technology, and create greater predictability across multi-site operations.

Mike Rizzo Named Vice President of Sales, Enterprise and SMB Markets

Rizzo, formerly Director of National Accounts, will lead sales growth across enterprise and small-to-midsize practice markets. He will also report to Miller.

Rizzo is known for a partnership-first approach built on trust, education, and long-term relationship building. He has spoken and networked across continuing education programs and industry forums, bringing a practical understanding of the evolving dental market to Jazz Imaging's growth strategy.

"I couldn't be more proud of Jenny and Mike. Their talent, heart, and commitment to our customers have made a tremendous impact, and I know they will continue to lead with intention and excellence." Said Miller. "I'm excited to see them step into these roles, raise the bar, and help shape what's next for Jazz and our customers."

Together, the three promotions strengthen Jazz Imaging's commercial leadership as the company continues to expand nationwide.
