

Hundreds Turn Out at The Children's Veg Fest, Black Veg Society Sponsors Upcoming Bmore Vegan Block Party

Black Veg Society Celebrates Massive Success of The Children's Veg Fest, Announces Five-Year Sponsorship of Upcoming Bmore Vegan Block Party

BALTIMORE, MD, UNITED STATES, September 1, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Following a triumphant and deeply moving weekend at The Children's Veg Fest, Black Veg Society is thrilled to announce its continued sponsorship and participation in the highly anticipated Bmore Vegan Block Party, taking place on Saturday, September 12, 2026, in downtown Baltimore.

This past weekend, The Children's Veg Fest drew hundreds of enthusiastic attendees to the Weinberg Y in Waverly for a vibrant, family-focused celebration of plant-based living. The in-person festival was immediately followed by an impactful virtual session that profoundly moved mothers, fathers, and children alike. Attendees were treated to back-to-back child-engaging cooking demos and emotional wellness talks that fostered deep community connections and promoted holistic wellness. The high energy remained consistent throughout the event, culminating in a couple of joyous dance parties that brought families together in a celebration of health and youth.

Riding the wave of this incredible community momentum, Black Veg Society is proud to transition its focus to the upcoming Bmore Vegan Block Party. Scheduled for September 12 from 3:00 PM to 8:00 PM at 100 N. Charles St., the Block Party is a free community event dedicated to celebrating plant-based food, local culture, and sustainable living, featuring a bold commitment to zero waste.

“Bmore Vegan Block Party is where food, culture, wellness, and community meet, creating a space to connect, celebrate, and inspire a healthier, more sustainable Baltimore,” said Brittany Gilliam, the visionary behind the event.

Black Veg Society has proudly sponsored and supported the Bmore Vegan Block Party for five years since the event's inception, recognizing its vital role in making veganism accessible, culturally relevant, and fun for the city. This year's block party promises to be the most engaging one yet. The event will feature live entertainment anchored by DJ Boogie The Gr8, alongside interactive activities including mindfulness chats, fitness demonstrations, and ping pong. Attendees can indulge in a diverse range of plant-based dishes from renowned local vendors such as Oh My Cod Vegan Seafood Co., Plant Based Beauty Yudi, Eatopian Eats, Zoe's Vegan Delight, The Empanada Lady, Nana's Rooted, Pherfectly Fresh, Ficos, and The Veggie Table.

At the event, Black Veg Society will be prominently tabling to connect directly with the community. Representatives will be giving away delicious vegan product samples from Hippeas and SunButter, lavender-scented soaps from Dr. Bronner's, and selling the organization's popular vegan (and vegan-ish) t-shirts. The booth will serve as a hub for education, outreach, and community engagement, welcoming longtime vegans and those simply curious
