

Next Day Access of Long Island, NY: New Franchise Location

LONG ISLAND, NY, UNITED STATES, September 1, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Next Day Access, a national leader in accessibility and mobility solutions, is proud to announce the opening of Next Day Access of Long Island, owned and operated by Vince Agatep and Scott Burkhardt.

Born and raised on Long Island, Vince Agatep and Scott Burkhardt bring deep local roots, complementary professional experience, and a shared commitment to serving the communities they call home. Together, they have more than 50 years of combined professional experience across operations, product management, marketing, and sales.

Vince's background has largely centered on operations and product management, while Scott brings extensive experience in marketing and sales. Together, their skills provide a strong foundation for leading a customer-focused accessibility business built on service, responsiveness, and trusted solutions, all supported by an organization that is one of the national leaders in accessibility and mobility solutions.

Beyond their professional experience, Vince and Scott share a strong work ethic shaped by their upbringings. Both were raised by hardworking, blue-collar parents, with both of their mothers working in the medical field as nurses. That connection to care, service, and helping others has remained central to who they are and what inspired them to pursue Next Day Access franchise ownership.

For Vince and Scott, the decision to join Next Day Access ultimately came down to purpose. After considering several business opportunities that also offered solid potential, they felt the organization was the most natural fit for who they are and what they want to contribute to the greater Long Island community.

"We believe in potential, but simply put, it came down more to purpose," said Scott Burkhardt, co-owner of Next Day Access of Long Island. "Next Day Access' core values are rooted in helping others and making a positive impact on the communities it serves. That combination of meaningful purpose and community impact strongly aligns with our values and is what excites us most about this new journey."

Scott and Vince are especially looking forward to serving fellow Long Islanders and building mutually beneficial relationships with like-minded organizations focused on improving people's lives. Born and raised on Long Island, and choosing to raise their own families there, they feel a strong connection to Nassau and Suffolk County residents.

"We love living on the Island, and we feel an extremely strong connection to our Nassau and Suffolk neighbors, all the way from the Hempsteads to the Hamptons," said Vince Agatep, co-owner of Next Day Access of Long Island. "We are excited to serve our fellow Long Islanders and help individuals, families, and businesses create safer, more accessible spaces."

When asked which of Next Day Access' five core values they align with most, Scott and Vince pointed to passion. Their passion for service, community, and helping others will guide their work as they bring trusted accessibility and mobility solutions to Long Island.
