

Office Hub and Spacebring Partner to Deliver Live Workspace Inventory

Automate workspace inventory and availability with the new Office Hub and Spacebring integration, reducing manual admin and ensuring live updates for tenants.

GDAŃSK, POLAND, September 1, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Office Hub, a global flexible workspace marketplace operating across more than 110 countries, today announced its integration with Spacebring, coworking space software used by 500+ coworking spaces in 55 countries, enabling operators to sync inventory and availability between the two platforms.

Spacebring coworking space platform sync with Office Hub

The integration removes the need for manual updates, helping operators keep listings accurate, reduce administration and respond faster to market demand.

Operators shouldn't have to keep the same inventory in multiple systems. This connection lets Spacebring customers keep Office Hub up to date from the software they already rely on.”

Igor Dzhebyan-Benjamin

Workspace providers using Spacebring can now connect directly with Office Hub to automatically update workspace availability, ensuring prospective tenants always see the latest inventory while reducing the operational burden on their teams.

Bringing the Flex Workspace Industry Forward

For years, industries such as travel and hospitality have relied on live integrations to keep availability accurate across multiple platforms. This partnership brings that same level of automation to the flexible workspace sector.

By eliminating manual inventory management, Office Hub and Spacebring are helping operators spend less time on administration and more time serving members and growing their business.

A Better Experience for Workspace Operators

The integration delivers a range of benefits, including:

- Automatic inventory synchronisation
- Reduced manual administration
- Improved listing accuracy
- Faster updates when availability changes
- Better visibility across Office Hub
- Higher quality leasing enquiries
- A smoother experience for workspace teams and prospective tenants

The integration supports Office Hub's ongoing commitment to building a connected ecosystem that helps providers manage their portfolios more efficiently while delivering a better search experience for businesses looking for workspace.

Executive Commentary

"Our vision has always been to make it easier for workspace providers to connect with tenants. This integration with Spacebring is another important step towards creating a truly connected marketplace where inventory stays live, accurate and effortless to manage. Together we're helping operators spend less time updating spreadsheets and more time growing their business."

Grant Philipp, CEO & Founder of Office Hub

"Operators shouldn't have to keep the same inventory in multiple systems. This connection lets Spacebring customers keep Office Hub up to date from the software they already rely on, so teams stay on members instead of listings."

Igor Dzhebyan-Benjamin, CEO of Spacebring

Available Now

The Office Hub and Spacebring integration is now available for workspace providers using the Spacebring platform.

Both companies will work together over the coming months to onboard customers, deliver educational webinars and continue expanding the integration with additional functionality.
