“Reaching 80 locations is an important milestone for VIVE, but the opportunity to welcome a business like Joe Dilorio Auto Body is what makes that growth meaningful,” said Vartan Jerian, Jr., CEO and Founder of VIVE Collision. “For nearly six decades, the Dilorio family and team have earned the trust of the Homestead and Mon Valley communities by taking care of people and doing quality work. We respect what they've built and are proud to carry that legacy forward while investing in the team, facility, and resources available to customers in this market.”

The Homestead location also represents a key step in VIVE Collision's continued expansion across Pennsylvania. Establishing a presence in the greater Pittsburgh market strengthens VIVE's coverage across the Commonwealth and enhances connectivity between its existing Pennsylvania operations and its broader Mid-Atlantic and Northeast network.

For the local community, the partnership brings a growing collision repair organization's resources to a trusted neighborhood business. Customers will continue to receive the personalized service they expect, with expanded access to training, technology, manufacturer repair procedures, and support systems central to VIVE Collision's commitment to safe, high-quality repairs.

VIVE Collision remains focused on strategic growth through partnerships with established collision repair businesses that share its commitment to people, customers, and communities. With Joe Dilorio Auto Body now Powered by VIVE, the organization continues advancing a modern collision repair experience grounded in its core values of People, Process, and Passion.
