

Award-Winning Filmmaker and Author Tané McClure Named Keynote Speaker at California Writer's Club San Fernando Valley

Award-winning writer and filmmaker Tané McClure shares her "Limitless" approach to storytelling and achieving creative dreams at CWC-SFV.

WOODLAND HILLS, CA, UNITED STATES, September 2, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The San Fernando Valley branch of the California Writers Club (serving Los Angeles and Ventura Counties) welcomes writer and filmmaker Tané McClure as its keynote speaker on Saturday, September 19 at 1 pm at the Motion Picture and Television Fund Wasserman campus, (Saban Center) located at 23388 Mulholland Drive, in Woodland Hills.

Be limitless. Dream beyond what seems possible, believe in your vision, and never let fear decide how far you can go.”

Tané McClure

McClure stands out as a multifaceted talent in the entertainment industry, but her achievements as a writer have become some of the most influential highlights of her career. With a portfolio that spans award-winning screenplays, acclaimed feature films, published novels, and even songwriting credits, McClure’s writing has left a significant mark on both the film and literary worlds. Her most recent project, Ethan Almighty, is a family/faith drama feature film based on a true story. McClure wrote, produced, and directed the film, which stars a notable cast including Sean Patrick Flanery, Selma Blair, Kelsey Grammer, Brandon Routh, and Trevor Donovan. The film wrapped principal photography in June 2026 and is set for release in 2027 with Arclight Films Distribution and Sales in collaboration with Hollywood Expansion Corporation.

McClure is also the writer and producer of the family film Kaitlyn’s Chance, featuring Sean Patrick Flanery, Jaime King, Jennifer Taylor, Samantha Rose Baldwin, and Shane Graham. Announcement on this film's release expected soon.

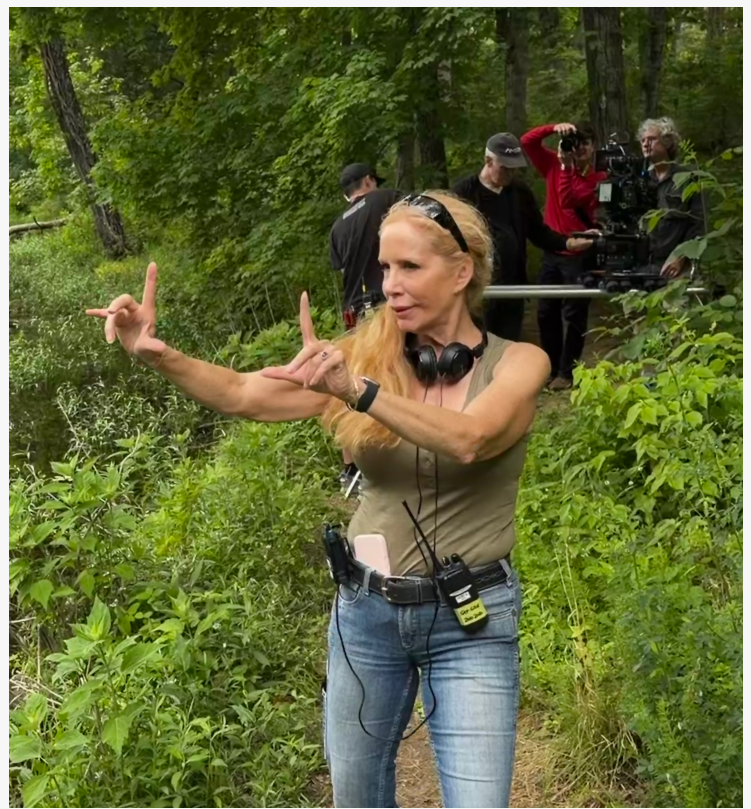

The next scheduled release for McClure is the action/thriller The Last Flare which she co-wrote and directed. This film is based on the true story of the fishing boat A.C.E and its crew. It is expected to be released in 2027 with High Fliers Distribution and Sales. This project further cements her reputation as a writer capable of handling powerful, real-life narratives. One of McClure's other works is the horror feature, Séance Games – Metaxu, which she co-wrote, directed, and produced. The film has already garnered over 37 festival awards, demonstrating her ability to craft compelling narratives that resonate with horror and thriller audiences. Its success in both domestic and international markets underscore the impact of her storytelling in multiple genres. McClure also wrote, produced, and starred in the full-length feature film Trance which won the Best Fantasy Film award at the New York International Independent Film and Video Festival.

Beyond screenwriting, McClure is the author of the book Rescue Heart: A Love Story, based on her award-winning feature film screenplay. Her newly released novel, Rescue the Missing: Love and Justice, is the second installment of the Rescue Heart trilogy and is now available on paperback and hardcover on Amazon and Barnes & Noble. Her transition from screen to page demonstrates her narrative strength across mediums.

In addition to her writing, Tané McClure has excelled as an editor, director, producer, actress, and singer. Her film and television productions have earned over 60 film festival awards and 20 nominations, including the LA Press Club National Journalism Award for LOVE BETTY WHITE: The Betty White Story.

Notable trivia: Tané McClure is the daughter of actor Doug McClure (The Virginian). She was a singer-songwriter and RCA Records recording artist, with songs featured in the Terminator soundtrack under the name Tané Cain.
