How Young With Solutions Scaled a DTC Fragrance Brand on PerfumeTok

Swiss Arabian entered the U.S. market with no TikTok account, no content, and no established presence, competing against brands already dominant in the "PerfumeTok" niche. Young With Solutions built the brand's TikTok strategy from the ground up: targeting five high-value fragrance audience segments, producing expert-led product education content instead of generic lifestyle posts, and publishing more than 70 native-first videos to build momentum. The approach drove 89 percent of all traffic through TikTok's For You Page, reaching fragrance-focused buyers rather than a broad, low-intent audience.

Integrating TikTok Shop and GMV Max Ads for Ecommerce ROI

As a TikTok Shop agency handling both organic strategy and paid TikTok ads management, Young With Solutions combined TikTok Shop, creator affiliate partnerships, and GMV Max advertising into a single funnel. According to the case study TikTok published, results included $449,552 in total revenue generated in five months, at an overall campaign ROI of 4.49x. Paid GMV Max ads contributed $229,349 at a 4.50x ROI, while affiliate partnerships generated $220,203 at a 4.48x ROI. The campaign also grew the brand's TikTok presence to more than 650,000 total post views and 3,615 followers.

A Track Record as a Social Commerce Growth Agency

The Swiss Arabian results build on Young With Solutions' recognition as an official TikTok Marketing Partner, a distinction the agency earned after generating more than $115 million in GMV and 30 million followers for brands across six years operating as a social commerce growth agency in the TikTok Shop ecosystem.

Young With Solutions founder Timoté Chanut presents the agency's TikTok Shop growth strategy to industry peers.

"Too many DTC brands fall for agencies showing screenshots of ad dashboards without real context or platform verification," says Chanut. "Our goal with this campaign wasn't just to generate half a million in revenue; it was to prove that true social commerce growth happens when your organic content, creator affiliates, and paid ads operate as a single unit. When evaluating an agency, brands shouldn't ask for claims, they should ask for independently verified platform case studies." — Timoté Chanut, Founder, Young With Solutions
