Phenom Cloud Announces Leadership Changes to Accelerate Enterprise AI Consulting and Global Expansion

The changes reflect the company's momentum in 2026 and its evolution toward helping organizations move beyond experimentation to sustainable, governed, and measurable AI adoption at scale.

Expanded Leadership Team

Sasidhar Kalagara has been named Chief Executive Officer, transitioning from Chief Operating Officer to lead the company's vision, Enterprise AI strategy, strategic investments, and partnerships.

Josh Rothmel has been named Chief Growth & Strategy Officer, leading corporate strategy, value engineering, strategic partnerships, emerging offerings, and new market development.

Doris Pearce-Niederwieser has been named Chief Revenue Officer, leading global sales, strategic customer relationships, and commercial expansion.

Murugan Kumaravel has been named Chief Customer Officer, assuming global responsibility for consulting, delivery, and customer success.

Gurinder Khera joins as Vice President, Global Marketing & Demand Generation, leading global marketing and demand generation.

Yugesh Ariketh joins as Vice President, Delivery Excellence, India GCC, leading Phenom Cloud's Global Capability Center in the Amaravati region, Andhra Pradesh, India.

Helping Enterprise Leaders Turn AI into Business Value

Phenom Cloud is expanding its Enterprise AI consulting capabilities with a particular focus on sustainable enterprise adoption.

Building on years of experience across digital transformation, enterprise platforms, HR, data, and complex transformation initiatives, Phenom Cloud will help customers develop pragmatic AI blueprints and roadmaps that identify high-value use cases, prioritize investments, and create a practical path from strategy to execution.

"Our HR technology heritage gives us an important advantage," Kalagara said. "We understand the platforms, processes, data, and operational realities behind enterprises. That allows us to help customers identify where AI can make a meaningful difference and, just as importantly, how to put it to work in the real world."

Expanding Global Delivery and Innovation

Phenom Cloud is also expanding its Global Capability Center in the Amaravati region, Andhra Pradesh, India, across consulting, engineering, data, and delivery.

Under Ariketh's leadership, the GCC will play an increasingly important role in global customer delivery, technology innovation, and the development of AI capabilities and accelerators designed to reduce implementation effort, accelerate time to value, and improve customer outcomes.
