

ShipAndStorage.com Modernizes Self-Storage with Intelligent Automation

Store smarter with instant carrier comparison, flexible storage options, secure payments, and worldwide delivery.

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, September 3, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ShipAndStorage.com, a technology platform that modernizes self-storage with intelligent automation, today announced the continued expansion of its intelligent storage commerce technology, helping consumers and businesses simplify how they store, manage, retrieve, and transport boxes, documents, seasonal items, sports equipment, luggage, and personal belongings across the United States and around the world.

The advertisement for Ship and Storage features a young woman with a backpack carrying boxes, standing next to a storage unit. The text on the ad includes the company logo, 'Smart Storage & Shipping', and the headline 'BACK-TO-SCHOOL STORAGE MADE EASY'. Below this, it says 'WE STORE. YOU FOCUS. WE DELIVER WHEN YOU NEED IT.' and lists services: STUDENT STORAGE, SUMMER STORAGE, DORM MOVES, and STUDY ABROAD SUPPORT. At the bottom, it highlights 'STORE TODAY. RETURN NEXT SEMESTER.' and 'FLEXIBLE. AFFORDABLE. STRESS-FREE.' along with icons for secure facilities, 24/7 monitoring, clean & climate controlled, and support you can trust.

Store smarter with pickup, delivery, and storage management through ShipAndStorage.com Traditional self-storage requires customers to do the heavy lifting. ShipAndStorage.com brings storage, retrieval, and transportation together through one intelligent experience.”

For decades, self-storage customers have been required to drive to facilities, transport belongings themselves, rent storage units, and return whenever they need access to their items. While the self-storage industry has grown into one of the largest real estate sectors in the United States, many storage experiences remain largely unchanged. As consumers increasingly expect the convenience of digital commerce, on-demand services, and home delivery, ShipAndStorage.com is helping modernize how people store, retrieve, and manage eligible items without frequent trips to storage facilities.

ShipAndStorage.com was built to change that.

Using intelligent automation and integrations with leading delivery providers including FedEx, DHL, UPS, and USPS, ShipAndStorage.com enables customers to compare delivery options instantly, generate labels in seconds, securely manage payments, arrange transportation, and access storage services through one seamless digital experience.

"Consumers can book travel, order products, manage finances, and access countless services online, yet storage often still requires driving across town, carrying heavy items, and manually managing the entire process," said Mike Ulker, CEO of ShipAndStorage.com. "Our vision is to make storage as convenient as modern e-commerce. Customers should be able to store, retrieve, and manage eligible items with just a few clicks."

Unlike traditional storage operators, ShipAndStorage.com is a technology-driven commerce platform focused on simplifying the storage experience through automation, carrier integration, and customer-centric technology.

The platform allows customers to compare carrier pricing, create delivery labels instantly, schedule transportation, manage stored items digitally, and arrange retrieval when needed. Customers can also take advantage of promotional storage programs offering up to six months of complimentary storage on eligible items.

Making Storage More Convenient

ShipAndStorage.com serves consumers, families, students, seasonal residents, remote workers, businesses, entrepreneurs, and organizations seeking a simple alternative to traditional storage.

ShipAndStorage.com modernizes self-storage through intelligent automation

The platform also helps small businesses, entrepreneurs, e-commerce sellers, students, and professionals manage inventory, supplies, records, documents, and seasonal belongings more efficiently.

Whether storing holiday decorations, business materials, college belongings, golf clubs, ski equipment, or personal items between moves, customers gain greater flexibility and control without needing to visit storage facilities regularly.

Creating New Opportunities for Partners

ShipAndStorage.com is expanding relationships with:

- Self-storage operators
- Property management companies
- Apartment communities
- Universities and student housing providers
- Business centers
- E-commerce merchants
- Relocation support providers
- Corporate housing organizations
- Technology and commerce partners

These partnerships create opportunities to improve customer experiences while offering more convenient storage and transportation options.

Secure Storage Commerce

The platform combines intelligent automation, secure payment technology, carrier integration, storage management tools, and customer support into one streamlined experience.

Customers benefit from real-time visibility, flexible transportation options, and dedicated support throughout the storage and retrieval process.

"Our goal is not simply to store belongings," added Ulker. "Our goal is to modernize an industry that has remained largely unchanged for decades. We believe customers deserve the same convenience and transparency from storage that they already expect from shopping, travel, banking, and other digital services."

Store Smarter. Retrieve Easier. Save Time.

Whether you're storing boxes, seasonal belongings, documents, golf clubs, skis, luggage, business supplies, or personal items, ShipAndStorage.com provides a smarter way to manage what matters.
