

HashKey Exchange adds a Tokenized U.S. Equity Index Fund focused on Tech and Innovation with WisdomTree TECHX

HONG KONG, September 17, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- HashKey Exchange, Hong Kong's leading licensed virtual asset exchange under HashKey Holdings Limited (3887.HK), an established comprehensive digital asset company in Asia, announced that its HashKey Earn Channel has listed a tokenized U.S. equity index fund, WisdomTree Technology & Innovation 100 Digital Fund (TECHX). Offered by WisdomTree, the Fund seeks to track the performance of the WisdomTree Technology and Innovation 100 Index. The Index includes companies focused on technology and innovation such as NVIDIA, Apple, Alphabet, Microsoft and Amazon - with IT companies accounting for over 60% of its allocation¹. TECHX is available only to Professional Investors. Eligible investors may submit subscription and redemption requests for TECHX in USDC through the HashKey Earn Channel on a daily basis².

HashKey Earn Channel has created an RWA product offering covering multiple asset classes, including tokenized money market funds, precious metals, fixed income and equity-related assets (certain products are available to professional investors only). The listing of TECHX further expands HashKey's RWA offering in equity-related assets and provides eligible investors with more focused exposure to the U.S. equity market through a tech and innovation-focused product.

¹ As of September 14, 2026, according to WisdomTree data, TECHX had an allocation of 66.13% to IT companies.

² Subscription and redemption requests will be processed in accordance with the issuer's applicable dealing calendar, operational procedures and settlement arrangements. Orders submitted on U.S. public holidays or other non-dealing days may be processed on the next available dealing day. The Product is currently available for subscription and redemption through the HashKey Earn Channel only. Deposits and withdrawals of TECHX to or from external wallets, transfers between HashKey Exchange users, and secondary market trading of TECHX are not supported.
