

Bridging the Gaps Ranked #1 in Virginia on Newsweek's America's Best Residential Addiction Treatment Centers 2026 List

National ranking recognizes the Winchester addiction treatment center based on professional reputation, credentials, services, and patient reviews

WINCHESTER, VA, UNITED STATES, September 8, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Bridging the Gaps has been ranked #1 in Virginia on Newsweek's list of America's Best Residential Addiction Treatment Centers 2026. The recognition is presented by Newsweek and Statista Inc., a global statistics and market research organization.

The annual ranking recognizes 440 leading residential addiction treatment centers across the United States. Facilities were evaluated using four data sources:

Reputation score: A national online survey of healthcare professionals and addiction treatment center managers within their respective states.

Credentials: National accreditations, certifications, and licenses relevant to addiction treatment centers, based on information provided by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration.

Care services: The number of recovery-support, educational, and counseling services offered by each facility, based on information provided by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration.

Patient reviews: Volume-weighted patient-experience data from Rehabs.com, Recovery.com, and Google Reviews.

"For more than 25 years, Bridging the Gaps has remained committed to providing individualized, comprehensive addiction treatment,” said Pam Reiman, Executive Director of Bridging the Gaps. “Being ranked #1 in Virginia by Newsweek is a tremendous honor. It reflects the dedication of our entire team and the trust individuals and families place in us during one of the most important times in their lives.”

BRIDGING THE GAPS

Located in Winchester, Bridging the Gaps provides personalized addiction treatment in an intimate, 24-bed setting. Its continuum of care includes residential treatment, partial hospitalization, intensive outpatient treatment, and comprehensive aftercare. The program integrates clinical treatment, trauma-focused care, holistic services, and recovery education based on each client’s individual needs.

“This recognition strengthens our commitment to continuing the work we have done for more than two decades,” Reiman added. “We are proud to represent Virginia on this national list and remain focused on helping each client build a strong foundation for lasting recovery.”

Bridging the Gaps is licensed by the Virginia Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Services, accredited by CARF International, and certified to provide ASAM Level 3.5 residential services.

The America’s Best Residential Addiction Treatment Centers 2026 ranking was announced on August 13, 2026, and can be viewed on Newsweek’s website.

About Bridging the Gaps

Bridging the Gaps is a 24-bed, holistic addiction treatment center in Winchester, Virginia, providing a trauma-focused continuum of care for more than 25 years.

Learn more at bridgingthegaps.com

Lauren Winnings
Bridging the Gaps
+1 540-535-1111
email us here

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/939749062>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2026 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.