

Adeline V. Lopez releases pop rock single on September 6th after stunning live debut

Loving Don't Make Money is a Gen Z anthem about lazy days with a lover

BOSTON, MA, UNITED STATES, September 5, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Boston, MA - Adeline V. Lopez, a Berklee College of Music student and rising artist in the Boston music scene, is set to LDMM is about the appeal of doing nothing with the person u love. It's easy to forget about the bills when ur in love but it's a rude awakening when u can't use "being in love" to call out of work.”

Adeline V. Lopez

release her highly anticipated pop rock single, "Loving Don't Make Money," on September 6th after a strong live debut last weekend at Bill's Bar in Boston. Adeline's successful last single, "The Prince" was about the downtown New York nightclub scene and watching people misbehave. With Loving Don't Make Money, Adeline is taking us into more intimate spaces. The new single is a sexy, dreamy bedroom song with a confident edge and ripping guitar solo.

"Loving Don't Make Money" will be on all major streaming platforms on September 6th. For more updates on her music and upcoming gigs and releases, follow Adeline V. Lopez on social media.

"Loving Don't Make Money" was recorded in Boston with Alex Sanders on guitar and produced with Juan Pablo Paredes.
