UPPER MARLBORO, Md. — Collaborative Shared Technologies LLC®, a woman-owned and service-disabled veteran-owned small business specializing in Knowledge Management, Enterprise Intelligence™, AI readiness, digital transformation, process improvement, Microsoft 365 solutions, and organizational performance improvement, today announced the appointment of Bryant Matthew Brown as Chief Operating Officer (COO).

Bryant Matthew Brown, Chief Operating Officer (COO), Collaborative Shared Technologies LLC®

Operational excellence, workforce development, and disciplined execution will be central to supporting our growth and delivering exceptional value to clients.”

Bryant Matthew Brown, Chief Operating Officer

The appointment strengthens the company's executive leadership team as Collaborative Shared Technologies LLC® positions for continued expansion of its consulting, training, publishing, AI readiness, Enterprise Intelligence™, and KnowledgeRoots™ offerings across government, commercial, and international markets. As Chief Operating Officer, Brown will oversee company operations, operational excellence, workforce planning, talent acquisition and onboarding, organizational performance, process improvement, and strategic growth initiatives. He will work closely with Asha A. Peterson, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, to build the operational infrastructure required to scale the company's consulting capabilities, workforce, intellectual property portfolio, and client delivery operations.

"Bryant brings a powerful combination of operational leadership, business transformation expertise, process excellence, workforce development, and entrepreneurial experience to Collaborative Shared Technologies LLC®," said Asha A. Peterson, Founder and Chief Executive Officer. "As we build the infrastructure necessary for our next stage of growth, his ability to translate strategy into disciplined execution will be invaluable. His leadership experience, military service, and commitment to operational excellence make him exceptionally well positioned to help guide our continued expansion. I am excited to welcome him to our executive leadership team."

Experienced Leadership in Operations and Business Transformation

Brown is a United States Marine Corps

Veteran, International Senior Small Business Consultant, and accomplished business executive with more than 21 years of professional experience spanning operations management, business transformation, workforce development, Agile leadership, process improvement, business analysis, enterprise technology, supply chain management, and organizational performance. Throughout his career, Brown has served in leadership and consulting roles including General Manager, Finance Manager, business consultant, Agile coach, enterprise transformation leader, and technology professional.

He has contributed to business growth and revenue-generation initiatives associated with more than $55 million in sales, while helping organizations improve operational performance, strengthen business processes, enhance customer engagement, and develop scalable approaches to organizational growth. Brown is an Accredited Small Business Consultant (ASBC®) through the Association of Accredited Small Business Consultants and holds professional
