

Korea Nakajo's ICEVAN Expands Exports to Over 20 Countries in Global Market Push

Commercial ice maker specialist strengthens global footprint with international certifications and advanced hygiene features.

GIMPO, SOUTH KOREA, September 5, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Korea Nakajo Co., Ltd. (CEO Jongmun Choi), a South Korean company specializing in commercial ice makers and shaved ice machines, is accelerating global expansion under its brand 'ICEVAN'. Korea Nakajo exports to more than 20 countries across Europe, Asia, the Americas, and the Middle East, and continues to expand its overseas distribution and partner network.

Korea Nakajo, founded in 2000, has specialized in the development and manufacturing of commercial ice makers and shaved ice machines, supplying ice-making solutions for a variety of commercial settings, including cafes, franchises, hotels, restaurants, and unmanned stores.

Based on its INNOBIZ certification as a Technology Innovation-Oriented Small and Medium Enterprise, and ISO 9001 and 14001 certifications, Korea Nakajo has established a systematic production, quality, and environmental management system. The company has also secured international certifications, including CE, CB, and ETL, and strengthened its global market foundation by complying with safety standards and regulations, including the European market's FCM Migration Test, WEEE, and POPs requirements.

The company's core brand, ICEVAN, offers commercial ice-making solutions, including nugget-type ice dispensers and cube ice makers. Following its B-type product line, Korea Nakajo also plans to launch C-type and S-type products, expanding its lineup further. In product development, Korea Nakajo emphasizes compact, space-efficient designs and ease of hygiene management. Some products feature automatic drying and UV sterilization, enhancing hygiene and user convenience.

The company is also strengthening its service competitiveness following product supply. With a domestic after-sales service network and a malfunction history management system for each product, Korea Nakajo manages installation through maintenance, ensuring stable operation and customer satisfaction.

Korea Nakajo continues to see results in its overseas market expansion. The company has maintained export growth, receiving the "3 Million Dollar Export Tower" award in 2024 and the "5 Million Dollar Export Tower" award in 2025 for 3 consecutive years. Korea Nakajo is strengthening its global competitiveness by expanding partnerships and distribution networks in key markets, including the UK, Switzerland, Italy, Japan, the UAE, Canada, and Mexico.

"Through technological competitiveness based on international certifications and continuous investment in hygiene and safety, we are providing ice-making solutions that overseas customers can trust," Jongmun Choi, CEO of Korea Nakajo said. He also added, "We will continue to expand our product lineup and global distribution network, growing ICEVAN into a competitive global ice maker brand."
