

Cathy Warshaw, Author, Turns a Personal Vision Into the Global Sisterhood Sleuths Universe: From Dream to Destiny

Cathy Warshaw's growing series uses mystery, adventure, and historical intrigue to help teens develop critical-thinking skills and cultivate curiosity

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, September 8, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Author and entrepreneur Cathy Warshaw is using the power of storytelling to help teens develop critical-thinking skills, cultivate curiosity, and become lifelong learners. Through her growing Sisterhood Sleuths universe, Warshaw combines mystery, historical intrigue, international adventure, and immersive storytelling to encourage young readers to ask questions, examine possibilities, and look beyond the familiar.

For Warshaw, that mission is deeply personal. Her desire to reach young readers comes from remembering what it felt like to struggle with confidence and feel as though she did not quite fit in. Those experiences now shape the way she connects with teens through storytelling.

"I was a child who didn't fit in," Warshaw says, explaining the inspiration behind the series. "I barely finished high school. I still remember what it was to be an insecure little girl, and that's why I want to write these for teens."

That experience ultimately helped shape Warshaw's vision for Sisterhood Sleuths. A lifelong entrepreneur, she has built her career around pursuing ideas and turning them into opportunities. In December 2024, she channeled that same determination into writing the series, creating adventures designed not only to entertain young readers but also to encourage them to think critically, stay curious, and look beyond the familiar.

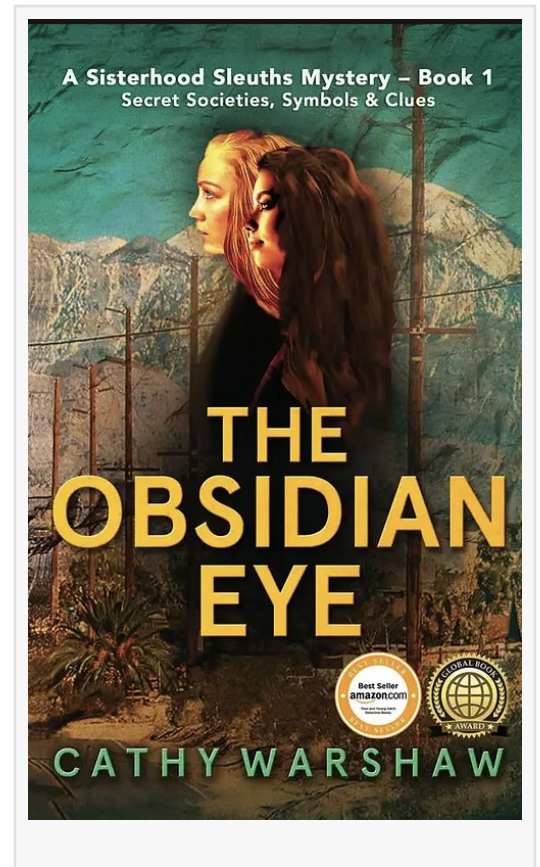

Cathy Warshaw

"I don't want my readers to use my books as an escape. I want them to use them to explore a world they might not be able to otherwise," says Warshaw.

Warshaw instead uses fiction as a gateway to unfamiliar cultures, historical settings, ideas, and perspectives. Each adventure encourages teens to stay curious about the world around them while showing them that books can open doors to places, people, and possibilities they may never encounter firsthand.

Warshaw says her books are about more than entertainment. Through storytelling and the power of imagination, she challenges young readers to strengthen their reasoning and critical-thinking skills while developing a deeper interest in the world beyond their own experiences. With only 14% of U.S. 13-year-olds reading for fun almost every day, educators face a growing challenge: making books compelling enough to compete with today's digital distractions.

"The decline in reading for pleasure tells us we have to rethink how we connect young people with books," Warshaw explains. "I want my readers to discover that reading isn't a chore—it's a doorway to imagination, curiosity, and learning."

Readers have praised The Obsidian Eye, one of the Sisterhood Sleuths adventures, for its combination of mystery, danger, and friendship. One Amazon reader describes the book as "fast-paced, clever, and perfect if you love YA mysteries with a twist."

For Warshaw, the ultimate goal is to give young readers more than an engaging mystery. She wants each adventure to spark curiosity, broaden perspectives, build confidence, and inspire readers to keep asking questions long after they reach the final page.

"My hope is that every child who picks up one of my books discovers something that stays with them long after the final page," Warshaw concludes. "If I can spark their imagination, strengthen their ability to think critically, and help them believe in themselves, then I've done what I set out to do."

For more information about Cathy Warshaw and the Sisterhood Sleuths series, visit www.sisterhoodsleuths.net.

About Cathy Warshaw

Cathy Warshaw is an entrepreneur, author, and creator of the Sisterhood Sleuths mystery-adventure series for teens. Her work combines international adventure, historical mystery, and immersive storytelling to inspire young readers to explore the world, strengthen their critical-thinking skills, and discover their own potential.

To learn more, please visit: <https://www.sisterhoodsleuths.net/>

Cathy Warshaw is available for interviews.

Amanda Kent
Boundless Media USA
2128334448 ext.
email us here

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/940083078>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2026 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.