THE INDUSTRY COMES TOGETHER

Participation will span drug discovery and therapeutics; clinical trials and development; regulatory affairs and drug approvals; synthetic biology, genomics and advanced therapeutics; deep tech, hardware and emerging technologies; biomanufacturing and pharmaceutical manufacturing; CROs, CDMOs and clinical services; supply chains, distribution and logistics; laboratory equipment, scientific instrumentation and research technologies; commercialization and business development; capital, investment, M&A and strategic partnerships; global markets; universities and research institutions; professional services and life sciences infrastructure; and artificial intelligence, machine learning and computational biology.

The July–August–September 2026 quarterly issue of Helixgate Biotech Review, featuring biotechnology, pharmaceutical, artificial intelligence and global life sciences industry intelligence.

Helixgate Biotech Review presents the Helixgate AI & Biotech Collaboration Series + Helixgate Industry Nights on October 22, 2026, at Del Mar Social in San Diego, creating a day to night experience connecting biotechnology, pharmaceutical & life sciences professionals.

No single technology or market segment defines the gathering. Many participating organizations are simultaneously buyers, suppliers, service providers and strategic partners. Helixgate is bringing those relationships into the same experience.

SHOWCASE YOUR COMPANY. MEET CUSTOMERS. BUILD RELATIONSHIPS.

Dedicated 6-foot company showcase tables will give participating organizations a physical presence where they can present their products, services, technologies, research and capabilities directly to attendees.

Helixgate wants participating companies to identify who they are trying to reach. Outreach will also focus on the executives and professionals who buy, source, evaluate and procure the products, technologies and services being presented.

The goal is to bring both sides of those commercial relationships into the room. Companies can meet potential customers, suppliers, manufacturers, distributors, investors and strategic partners. Buyers can discover new technologies, services and capabilities.

MAJOR SPONSORSHIP & INDUSTRY VISIBILITY

Major sponsors will have opportunities to establish visibility across the complete experience, from presentations, roundtables and professional networking through the Executive Dinner and Helixgate Industry Nights.

Sponsorship is intended to provide more than passive logo placement. It is designed for organizations seeking high-level visibility, industry positioning and meaningful engagement. The quarterly format also offers sustained visibility across future Helixgate gatherings.

PRESENTATIONS, ROUNDTABLES & INDUSTRY CONVERSATION

The daytime Collaboration Series will feature perspectives spanning scientific research, therapeutic and clinical development, regulatory affairs, emerging technologies, manufacturing, commercialization, investment, international markets and the wider business of life sciences.

Education, networking and commercial participation are designed to interact. An attendee may discover a company through a showcase, participate in a roundtable, meet a potential business relationship and continue that conversation over dinner.

THE EXECUTIVE DINNER AND OFFICIAL AFTER PARTY

From 5:00 PM to 6:30 PM, the Executive Dinner, Industry Introductions & Networking will help attendees discover executives, scientists, founders, investors, sponsors, customers, suppliers and strategic relationships already in the room.

At 7:00 PM, the second act begins. Helixgate Industry Nights: The Official After Party will transform the atmosphere with wine and cocktails, catering, DJs, live entertainment, professional networking, social interaction and celebration through midnight.

The Official After Party is a major part of the Helixgate experience, allowing relationships established throughout the day to continue developing into the night.

MORE THAN A SINGLE EVENT

October 22 is part of an ongoing quarterly event series. Companies can return with new products, services and developments. Sponsors can build visibility over time. Professionals can reconnect with established relationships while meeting new participants at every gathering.

POWERED BY HELIXGATE BIOTECH REVIEW

The experience is presented by Helixgate Biotech Review, A High Tech Global Digital Intelligence Publication covering biotechnology, pharmaceuticals and the broader global life sciences industry.

Helixgate is not being developed solely as a live-event platform. The publication exists before, during and after each gathering, providing an expanding platform for industry intelligence, original editorial coverage, company discovery and recurring live experiences.
