

QMS2GO CEO Onega Ulanova Named to Technical.ly RealLIST Innovators 2026

Onega Ulanova named to Technical.ly's inaugural RealLIST Innovators 2026 for Louisiana among 15 tech leaders.

RUSTON, LA, UNITED STATES, September 9, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Onega Ulanova, CEO and co-founder of QMS2GO, has been named to Technical.ly's inaugural RealLIST Innovators 2026 for Louisiana. The list spotlights 15 technologists recognized for technical aptitude, community leadership, and collaboration across the state's growing tech ecosystem.

Technical.ly's RealLIST Innovators series highlights inventors, software developers, scientists, and engineers who are tackling hard problems and building solutions with lasting impact. This is the first year the feature has been published for Louisiana.

Ulanova leads QMS2GO, an AI-powered quality management platform built for small and mid-sized manufacturers. Headquartered in Ruston, Louisiana, QMS2GO helps companies build and run ISO 9001-aligned quality systems, keep audit evidence organized, and stay audit-ready without the usual patchwork of spreadsheets, shared drives, and disconnected tools.

"Louisiana's manufacturers and tech builders are solving real operational problems every day," said Ulanova. "Being included among this inaugural RealLIST cohort is an honor for our team and a signal that quality software built for the shop floor belongs in the broader Louisiana tech conversation."
