

Columbine Label's Rachel Jackson Named a Future Leader at the 2026 Labels & Labeling Global Awards

VP of Operations recognized as an early-career professional in the label and packaging industry during LOUPE Americas 2026 in Rosemont, IL.

DENVER, CO, UNITED STATES, September 8, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Rachel Jackson, vice president of operations at The Columbine Label Company, has been named a Future Leader in the 2026 Labels & Labeling Global Awards. The award recognizes early-career professionals who are making an impact on the label and packaging industry.

The Future Leader award is new for 2026. A panel of industry judges selected the winners. The Labels & Labeling Global Awards also recognize innovation, sustainability, and top companies in the field.

The award will be presented at LOUPE Americas 2026. The event runs September 15-17 at the Donald E. Stephens Convention Center in Rosemont, Illinois. LOUPE Americas is the largest label and package printing event in North America. It was known as Labelexpo Americas until this year. The awards ceremony takes place on the opening day, September 15.

Jackson leads operations at Columbine Label, a family-owned custom label printing company based in Centennial, Colorado. The company has printed custom labels for independent brands since 1988.

"This recognition means a lot to me. The label industry is full of talented people, and it is an honor to be counted among its future leaders. I am proud of our team at Columbine and the independent brands we get to work with," said Rachel Jackson, vice president of operations at The Columbine Label Company.

Columbine Label prints custom labels for food, beverage, health and wellness, personal care, and other products. The company works with independent brands rather than large conglomerate accounts.

About The Columbine Label Company

The Columbine Label Company is a family-owned custom label printer in Centennial, Colorado.

Founded in 1988, the company prints custom labels for independent brands across food, beverage, health and wellness, personal care, and other categories. It uses flexographic and digital printing to produce product labels, shrink sleeves, and flexible packaging. Learn more at columbinelabel.com.
