Love and Legend Lolli Set to Take the Stage at Ultimate Wellness Conference in Miami Beach

The Biohack Yourself Media siblings join a lineup of physicians and longevity experts at the three-day Miami Beach gathering later this month.

MIAMI, FL, UNITED STATES, September 8, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Love Lolli, 10, and her younger brother Legend Lolli, 8, best known as the young co-hosts of the documentary "Biohack Yourself," streaming on Amazon Prime, are set to take the stage this month at the Ultimate Wellness Conference, a three-day health and longevity gathering opening September 24 at the Faena Forum in Miami Beach, making them among the youngest speakers in the health and wellness industry. The siblings are the children of Biohack Yourself Media founders Anthony and TereZa Lolli.

Love will deliver a keynote titled "The Moment I Learned Health Is Everything" on the conference's opening day, sharing the personal story behind her work as one of the youngest health journalists in the wellness space. Legend will also take the stage, bringing the same curiosity that has made him a familiar face interviewing physicians and researchers for the family's Biohack Yourself platform. The siblings join a lineup of physicians, scientists and wellness practitioners for three days of talks, workshops and panels covering longevity science, cellular health, nutrition and preventative medicine.

Love and Legend have grown up inside Biohack Yourself Media, the documentary and media company their parents founded. Love, a health journalist and peer reviewer for the company, holds more than 75 professional credits spanning national commercials, off-Broadway theater, film and television. Legend, an actor and podcaster, appeared alongside his sister in "Fish Out of Water," directed by Francesca Scorsese, with additional credits including "The Super Lollis" and "Good Egg," and reaches more than 11,000 followers on Instagram, his largest personal platform. Together, the siblings have interviewed physicians and researchers including Dr. Steven Gundry, Robert F. Kennedy Jr., Ben Greenfield, Dr. Daniel Amen, Gary Brecka, Bryan Johnson and Dr. Gabrielle Lyon for the Biohack Yourself documentary. Both are also young real estate investors, a path their parents credit to the family's own book, "The Heart of the Deal." The Miami Beach appearance follows an earlier stop this year at The Fab Life Experience in Fort Lauderdale, where the siblings addressed a gathering of physicians, entrepreneurs and healthcare investors at the Four Seasons Resort.

Ultimate Wellness Conference, founded by functional health practitioner Julia Smila, brings together more than 2,000 attendees and more than 50 speakers for three days of keynotes, panels and workshops on longevity science, biohacking and holistic health at the Faena Forum, alongside an expo hall of wellness brands and technologies. This year's schedule also includes a screening of sHEALed, the women's health documentary produced by the Lolli family's Biohack Yourself Media, extending the company's presence at the conference beyond Love and Legend's appearances. The stop adds to a busy year for the family, which brought sHEALed to its world premiere at the Cannes Film Festival this past May and continues expanding Biohack Yourself Media's reach across documentary, magazine and digital platforms.
